Much Ado About Nonexistence Fiction And Reference Avrum Stroll:

Much Ado About Nonexistence Avrum Stroll, 2007-04-26 The problem of the nature of fiction and the problem of nonexistence are closely tied because fiction often talks about nonexistent entities In Fiction Reference and Nonexistence A P Martinich and Avrum Stroll two of America's leading philosophers explore fiction and undertake an analytic philosophical study of fiction and its reference and its relation to truth Included in the discussion is the authors new contemporary theory of fiction developed as an extension of the speech act theory of H P Grice as well as the relationship between nonexistence and Bertrand Russell's well known theory of definite descriptions and Hilary Putnam's theory of the relationship between common names and the world

Much Ado about Nonexistence Aloysius Martinich, Avrum Stroll, 2007 Fiction Reference and Nonexistence contains a new contemporary theory of fiction and discusses the connection between language and reality Martinich and Stroll two of America's leading philosophers explore fiction and undertake an analytic philosophical study of fiction and its reference and its relation to truth

Secrecy and Disclosure in Victorian Fiction Leila Silvana May, 2016-07-15 Why were the Victorians more fascinated with secrecy than people of other periods What is the function of secrets in Victorian fiction and in the society depicted how does it differ from that of other periods and how did readers of Victorian fiction respond to the secrecy they encountered These are some of the questions Leila May poses in her study of the dynamics of secrecy and disclosure in fiction from Queen Victoria's coronation to the century's end May argues that the works of writers such as Charlotte Bront William Makepeace Thackeray Mary Elizabeth Braddon Edward Bulwer Lytton and Arthur Conan Doyle reflect a distinctly Victorian obsession with the veiling and unveiling of information She argues that there are two opposing vectors in Victorian culture concerning secrecy and subjectivity one presupposing a form of radical Cartesian selfhood always remaining a secret to other selves and another showing that nothing can be hidden from the trained eye May calls the relation between these clashing tendencies the dialectics of secrecy and disclosure May's theories of secrecy and disclosure are informed by the work of twentieth century social scientists She emphasizes Georg Simmel's thesis that sociality and subjectivity are impossible without secrecy and Erving Goffman's claim that sociality can be understood in terms of performativity the presentation of the self in everyday life and his revelation that performance always involves disguise hence secrecy May's study offers convincing evidence that secrecy and duplicity in contrast to the Victorian period's emphasis on honesty and earnestness emerged in response to the social pressures of class gender monarchy and empire and were key factors in producing both the subjectivity and the sociality that we now recognize as Victorian All for Nothing Andrew Cutrofello, 2014-08-22 All For Nothing The Event of Literature Terry Eagleton, 2012-05-29 In this characteristically concise witty and lucid book Terry Eagleton turns his attention to the questions we should ask about literature but rarely do What is literature Can we even speak of literature at all What do different literary theories tell us about what texts mean and do In throwing new light on these and other questions he has raised in previous best sellers Eagleton offers a new theory of what we mean by literature He also shows what it is that a great many different literary theories have in common In a highly unusual combination of critical theory and analytic philosophy the author sees all literary work from novels to poems as a strategy to contain a reality that seeks to thwart that containment and in doing so throws up new problems that the work tries to resolve The event of literature Eagleton argues consists in this continual transformative encounter unique and endlessly repeatable Freewheeling through centuries of critical ideas he sheds light on the place of literature in our culture and in doing so reaffirms the value and validity of literary thought today Fictional Objects Stuart Brock, Anthony Everett, 2015 Discusses a range of philosophical questions about fictional characters and fictional objects with implications for metaphysics the philosophy of mind and the philosophy of language The Philosophical Review Jacob Gould Schurman, James Edwin Creighton, Frank Thilly, Gustavus Watts Cunningham, 2009 An international journal of general philosophy Z.
