thatched roof The centre panel consists of a huge plank of cedar the irregular grain cut out in such a way as to show the lines in high relief giving it the appearance of very old wood in which the softer lines have been worn away The round sticks which form the frame for the plank and those bordering the ceiling as well as those running from the corners of the ceiling to the corners of the plank are of red pine with the bark unremoved The radiating rafters are of large yellow bamboo while the smaller beams running parallel to the sides of the room consist of small dark brown and polished bamboo the body of the ceiling is made up of a brown rush called hagi this representing the thatch This ceiling was simply charming it was clean pure and effective it gave the room a lofty appearance and was moreover thoroughly constructive Our architects might well

Japanese Homes and Their Surroundings (Classic Reprint) Edward Sylvester Morse,2015-07-01 Excerpt from Japanese Homes and Their Surroundings In an exceedingly interesting article on the early study of the Dutch in Japan by Professor K Mitsukuri the author has occasion to refer to the uncle of one of the three famous Japanese scholars who translated into Japanese a Dutch book on anatomy He says this uncle Miyada was almost eccentric in his disposition He held it to be a solemn duty to learn any art or accomplishment that might be going out of the world and then describe it so fully that it might be preserved to posterity The nephew was faithful to his uncle s instructions and though following medicine for his profession he took it upon himself to learn hitoyogiri a certain kind of music which was well nigh forgotten and even went so far as to study a kind of dramatic acting Though not animated by Miyada s spirit when I set about the task of collecting the material embodied in this work I feel now that the labor has not been altogether in vain as it may result in preserving many details of the Japanese house some of them trivial perhaps which in a few decades of years may be difficult if not impossible to obtain About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
