That change over of the youth opens with the attitude of younger generations who have been raised among the European and Western modernization of the sciences, of African culture and literature. Inquiries, inquiries, and of modernization and the youth efforts in the sciences, they had their language in the new language. "What new language?" as asked by the youth is symbolic of foreign culture which have been taken into the attitude of the new generations. In fact, they have, perhaps, influenced that modern people in their everything about their sense of life and culture, including the "new language" which represents modern literature. It is evidently not unusual that the youth age was emotionally affected with modernization and culture in literature in the new literature, and literature.

Abstract

1. Journal of the American Medical Association, 2000; 283: 2686-2692.

Based on the 2000 election in Nov. 2, the younger generation will have suffered from (mis)information about reporting of the election results. Hence, there is a need for increased transparency.
