Gilbert,2022-04-05 An examination of a series of diverse radical and experimental international works from the 1950s to the present What is a literary work In Literature's Elsewheres Annette Gilbert tackles this question by deploying an extended concept of literature examining a series of diverse radical experimental works from the 1950s to the present that occupy the liminal zone between art and literature These works by American Artist Allison Parrish Natalie Czech Stephanie Syjuco Fiona Banner Elfriede Jelinek Dan Graham Robert Barry George Brecht and others represent a pluralized literary practice that imagines a different literature emerging from its elsewheres Investigating a work's coming into being its transition from text to work as a social object and pragmatic category of literary communication Gilbert probes the assumptions and foundations that underpin literature including the ideologies and power structures that prop it up She offers a snapshot from a period of recent literary and art history when such central concepts as originality and authorship were questioned and experimental literary practices ranged from concrete poetry and Oulipo to conceptual writing and appropriation literature She examines works that are dematerialized site specific unique copies of other works and institutional critiques Considering the inequalities exclusions and privileges inscribed in literature she documents the power of experimental literature to attack these norms and challenges the field's canonical geographic boundaries by examining artists with roots in North and South America East Asia and Western and Eastern Europe The cross pollination of literary and art criticism enriches both fields With Literature's Elsewheres Gilbert explores what art can't see about the literary and what literature has overlooked in the arts The Invisible Reader Bridget Penney,Paul Holman,1995 The Invisible Man Herbert George Wells,1958

The fringes of citizenship Julija Sardelic, 2021-07-27 This book presents a socio legal enquiry into the civic marginalisation of Roma in Europe Instead of looking only at Roma s position as migrants an ethnic minority or a socio economically disadvantage group it considers them as European citizens questioning why they are typically used to describe exceptionalities of citizenship in developed liberal democracies rather than as evidence for how problematic the conceptualisation of citizenship is at its core Developing novel theoretical concepts the book investigates a variety of topics including migration and free movement statelessness and school segregation It argues that while Roma are unique as a minority the treatment that marginalises them is not This is demonstrated by comparing their position to that of other marginalised minorities around the globe An electronic edition of this book is freely available under a Creative Commons CC BY NC ND licence
