Plant Microtechniques and Protocols Edward Chee Tak Yeung, Claudio Stasolla, Michael John Sumner, Bing Quan Huang, 2015-09-19 A proper understanding of the structural organization of the plant body is essential to any study in plant biology. Experimental studies in vivo and in situ will lead to structural, physiological and cellular changes of the experimental material. To study macroscopic and microscopic changes, different histological methods and microtechniques can be used as they provide valuable information of the experimental system. In addition, the observed structural changes allow investigators to set hypothesis for further studies based on one's own observation. Thus, proper selection and utilization of microtechniques are a must for the success of a research program. At present, an up to date collection of protocols are not readily available in the literature. The latest work in plant microtechniques was published in 1999 by Ruzin but many others are no longer in print, e.g. Jensen 1964, O'Brien and McCully 1981. Furthermore, a majority of published works focus on techniques related to general processing and staining procedures. A comprehensive treatment that encompasses broader applications of microtechniques to other disciplines is lacking, e.g. archeology, wood science, etc. There is a need to create a comprehensive volume of botanical methods and protocols which includes traditional and novel techniques that can be used by researchers in plant science and investigators in other disciplines that require plant microtechniques in their research and teaching. This book covers a wide variety of applications and brings them up to date to make them understandable and relevant, especially to students using the methods for the first time. It is our intention to create a useful reference for plant histology and related methods that will serve as a foundation for plant scholars, researchers and teachers in the plant sciences. Biomedical

Engineering Systems and Technologies Ana Fred, Hugo Gamboa, 2017-03-03 This book constitutes the thoroughly refereed post conference proceedings of the 9th International Joint Conference on Biomedical Engineering Systems and Technologies BIOSTEC 2016 held in Rome, Italy, in February 2016. The 22 revised full papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from a total of 321 submissions. The papers are organized in topical sections on biomedical electronics and devices, bioimaging, bioinformatics, models, methods and algorithms, bio-inspired systems and signal processing, health informatics. Physico-Chemical Control of Cell Function Cesare Gargioli, Giancarlo Forte, Alberto Rainer, 2019-10-17

Extracellular Matrix (ECM) has been considered for a long time merely a scaffold sustaining cell and tissue function. Despite this simplistic view shared by many nowadays, ECM and their mechanical, physical and chemical characteristics acquired a progressively larger role, actively regulating cell life, survival, proliferation, gene expression and differentiation. The interplay between cells and the ECM is continuously controlled at the cell level in a dynamic way. While cells synthesize the raw components of the ECM, this in turn impacts on cell function by providing chemical, topographical and mechanical hints. Such stimuli have been proven to control several aspects of cell function, including survival, proliferation, differentiation and migration. The molecular pathways activated by cells in response to the physical cues arising from the ECM are being disclosed and thus the possibility to control cell function through materials design is becoming more realistic Current in vitro protocols relying in 2D cell culture system entail reductionist approaches to the complexity of cell ECM interaction and result in cells rapidly losing their distinctive functions in culture Understanding and replicating the 3D microenvironmental cues affecting cell function appears as a mandatory requirement for the development of next generation biomaterials as well as for the establishment of more physiologically relevant and predictive in vitro models of diseases Such an effort will require a multidisciplinary approach at the convergence of biophysics biology nanotechnology and bioengineering

The Plant Cell Wall Methods and Protocols Zoë A. Popper, Cardiovascular Remodeling Yan Yang,Yi Zhang,Ming Lei,Gui-Rong Li,2023-08-25 Although the treatment has greatly progressed the mortality of cardiovascular diseases remains the leading cause of death worldwide Serious cardiovascular diseases e g myocardial infarction heart failure cardiac dysrhythmias and stroke are resulted from cardiovascular remodeling secondary to the cardiovascular risk factors including hypertension atherosclerosis cigarette smoking diabetes mellitus hyperlipidemia aging etc Cardiac remodeling involves a series of molecular cellular and interstitial alterations which manifest clinically as changes in size mass geometry and function of the heart In addition vascular remodeling is an active process of structural alteration involving vascular wall thickening and lumen stenosis due to endothelial injury vascular smooth muscle cell proliferation and matrix deposition This results in atherosclerosis and or stenosis followed by myocardial infarction stroke etc Thus studies on the mechanism of cardiovascular remodeling and new therapeutic approaches are important scientifically and clinically Cardiovascular remodeling is a response of specific cardiovascular cells including cardiomyocytes endothelial smooth muscle cells and interstitial cells to noxious hemodynamic metabolic and inflammatory stimuli The remodeling may initially be functional compensatory and adaptive but it progresses to structural alterations that become pathogenic when the damaging stimuli are sustained The mechanism of cardiovascular remodeling is complex and recent studies focus on improving and or reversing the remodeling by clarifying molecular mechanisms and identifying novel therapies Pharmacological anti remodeling RNA based long non coding RNA and microRNA treatment cell based iPS cardiac repair and cell free exosome approaches have been shown to improve cardiovascular remodeling alongside proangiogenic pro survival proliferative and immunogenic factors stimulating endogenous proliferative potential of cardiomyocytes However though advanced studies have progressed the prognosis of the affected patients remains poor Therefore understanding novel mechanisms identifying remodeling biomarkers and developing new therapeutic drugs and approaches can lead to new therapeutic options for treating patients with cardiovascular diseases
