We will need

- a drawing board or flat surface
- soft pencils: brown, green, light blue, dark blue, turquoise, black, pink, grey, turquoise
- 1 sheet of paper (or a large sheet)
- a plate with 1 painted pencil
- washing tape or stretch tape

Soft pencils produce vibrant colors. They can be blended and layered to make a picture look like it has texture and depth. Follow these steps to make a picture of a boat reflecting in the water. We will use soft pencils to capture the true beauty of rippling water.

First, prepare your pencil paper by taping it to a drawing board or flat surface. Use white tape or masking tape to do this. Keep your tape as straight as possible – this will create a border for your artwork.

Tip: If you're using masking tape, try making it to a different surface first to ensure it's allowed before using it on your paper.

Refer to the boat photo continuously while creating your artwork. Begin by blending in more colors: brown for the boat and its reflection, ochre, green and light and dark blue for the water. Add your pencil on to add to each more color.

Three Rivers and an Ocean Alan Williamson,Al Cazu,2017-03-02 Towards the end of the writing of my autobiography I returned to my love of boats and the ocean and gained ownership of my dear sloop the Caledonia The last pages of the story of my life so far that is remain blank and the final sentence stated that hopefully the story still had more to come Well here is yet another addition to my tale I set up the cabin of my new vessel to double up as an art studio and began a series of images that would focus upon life on the water This collection of pictures is not an example of polished and finished artworks it is a number of pencil and watercolour sketches that derive from impressions of that which reflects water life here in Cornwall

Prospecting Ocean Stefanie Hessler,2019-12-17 Investigating the entanglement of industry politics culture and economics at the frontier of ocean excavations through an innovative union of art and science The oceans are crucial to the planet's well-being. They help regulate the global carbon cycle, support the resilience of ecosystems, and provide livelihoods for communities. The oceans, as guardians of planetary health, are threatened by many forces, including growing extractivist practices. Through the innovative lens of artistic research, Prospecting Ocean investigates the entanglement of industry, politics, culture, and economics at the frontier of ocean excavation. The result is a richly illustrated study that unites science and art to examine the ecological, cultural, philosophical, and aesthetic reverberations of this current threat to the oceans. Prospecting Oceans takes as its starting point an exhibition by the photographer and filmmaker Armin Linke, which was commissioned by TBA21 Academy London and first shown at the Institute of Marine Science CNR ISMAR in Venice. Linke is concerned with making the invisible visible, and here he unmasks the technologies that enable extractions from the ocean, including future seabed mining for minerals and sampling of genetic data. But the book extends far beyond Linke's research, presenting the latest research from a variety of fields and employing art as the place where disciplines can converge. Integrating the work of artists with scientific, theoretical, and philosophical analysis, Prospecting Ocean demonstrates that visual culture offers new and urgent perspectives on ecological crises. Transformative Currents Cassandra

Coblentz, Aaron Katzeman, Ziying Duan, 2025-02-21. Transformative Currents: Art and Action in the Pacific Ocean, edited by Cassandra Coblentz, brings together diverse writers, scientists, artists, activists, and thinkers to investigate social and environmental issues throughout the entirety of the Pacific Ocean, including Angela Mooney, Darcy and Charles Sepulveda, Elizabeth DeLoughrey, Ziying Duan, and Aaron Katzeman. The authors and contributors are leading figures in the field of Blue Humanities, an emergent discipline ranging from historical to visual to cultural and literary studies on oceans, and they bring a rich range of expertise to the project. At this crucial time, in which the health of the Pacific Ocean is in an increasingly fragile and volatile state, it is now more important than ever to document and share these individuals' work as we strive to raise awareness and foster a greater consciousness of how artists are making vital contributions to improving the ecological conditions of our oceans and coastal environments. Transformative Currents addresses an important gap in art historical literature by not only addressing the complexities of this crucial subject matter but also offering a platform for Indigenous writers and artists' voices to be considered in dialogue with their Western colleagues. The book and accompanying exhibition of the same name, curated by Coblentz with Katzeman and Duan for Getty's PST ART Art Science Collide, includes work by artists at many stages in their careers and from a variety of locations. The exhibition offers a distinct mix of voices from a wide array of geographical and professional backgrounds and is among the first to harness this diverse range of cultural perspectives about environmental issues throughout the Pacific Ocean. Jürgen Claus: To the Oceans with
