Visions of Womanhood in Contemporary African Literature Blessing Diala-Ogamba, 2021-09-28 Through an analysis of historical and contemporary literature, Visions of Womanhood in Contemporary African Literature argues that African women were not relegated to the background in African society until after colonization. Blessing Diala Ogamba analyzes the history of women's roles in African society through oral stories and biographies to show how colonialization worked to oppress women in Africa and explores the ways contemporary African literature confronts and works to overcome its colonial past. Using works by authors such as Akachi Adimora Ezeigbo, Lilian Masitera, Nawal El Sadaawi, Lauretta Ncgofo, Sembene Ousmane and many others, Diala Ogamba reveals the consistent progression of women and their roles in African novels and society.

Emerging Perspectives on Akachi Adimora-Ezeigbo Rose A. Sackeyfio, Blessing Diala-Ogamba, 2017-11-08 Emerging Perspectives on Akachi Adimora Ezeigbo is a collection of 15 critical essays that highlights the literary contributions of Akachi Adimora Ezeigbo as one of Nigeria's leading female writers. The book includes a literary biography, professional profile and an interview with professor Adimora Ezeigbo that offers valuable insight into her life and works. Contributing scholars provide critical and theoretical perspectives on Adimora Ezeigbo's oeuvre that represents a postcolonial lens to interpret the African world. Emerging Perspectives contextualizes Adimora Ezeigbo's works of fiction, poetry and drama within African, Nigerian and Women's literary tradition. This collection builds upon critical and theoretical scholarship on leading African writers whose works comprise a dynamic and compelling genre of African writing that spans the post-independence era into the 21st century. The essays examine themes from Adimora Ezeigbo's writing such as patriarchy, feminism, war, cultural traditions and contemporary issues in Nigerian society such as trafficking and many of the social, economic and political challenges to Nigeria's development as a modern nation-state.

Children's Literature & Story-telling Ernest Emenyonu, Patricia Thornton Emenyonu, Jane Bryce, Maureen N. Eke, Stephanie Newell, Charles E. Nnolim, Alphonse Kwawisi Tekpetey, Iniobong I. Uko, Obi Nwakanma, Chimalum Moses Nwankwo, 2015 Contributors analyse the theories behind children's literature, its functions and cultural significance and suggest the new directions this literature is taking in terms of its craft, themes and intentions. Africa's encounter with the West and its implications and consequences remain far-reaching and enduring in the craft and thrust of its creative writers. The contributors to ALT 33 analyse the connections between traditional stories and myths that have been told to children as well as the work of contemporary creative writers who are writing for children in order that they understand this complex history. Some of these writers are developing traditional myths, folk tales and legends and are writing them in new forms while others focus on the encounter with the West that has dominated much modern African literature for adults. The previous neglect of the cultural significance, study, criticism and teaching of children's literature is addressed in this volume.

How can the successes and or failures of stories and story telling for children in Africa be measured Are there models to be followed and what makes them models What is the relationship between the text and the illustration of children s books What should guide the reader or critic of children s literature coming out of Africa globalism transculturality or internal regionalism What problems confront teachers students publishers and promoters of children s books in Africa Ernest Emenyonu is Professor of Africana Studies at the University of Michigan Flint USA the editorial board is composed of scholars from US UK and African universities Reviews Editor Obi Nwakanma HEBN Nigeria

the exploration of liminality in the field of Anglo American literature written by or about women between the Victorian period and the Second World War Gender in Literary Exchange Anka Ryall, Anne Birgitte Rønning, 2021-03-29 Can the recovery of women's contributions to literary culture be compared to a salvage operation In that case for what purpose The essays in this book explore the role of women writers and readers in Nordic literary culture within a European and worldwide network of literary exchange Specifically they consider the transnational transmission of women's literary texts during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Textual exchange is as a migratory practice entailing processes of textual export import translation reception and dissemination across national boundaries These essays are case studies that not only explore the various transformations that happen when texts migrate from one cultural and linguistic framework to another but also highlight the gendered nature of such transformations and the significance of transcultural exchange for perceptions of gender Spanning from digital humanities and world literature libraries and reading societies to the transnational reception of authors such as Selma Lagerlöf Simone de Beauvoir and Monika Fagerholm the essays contribute to an exciting and expanding field of humanities research The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of NORA Nordic Journal of Feminist and Gender Research Encountering Difference: New Perspectives on Genre, Travel and Gender Gigi Adair, Lenka Filipova, 2020-03-03 This edited collection poses crucial questions about the relationship between gender and genre in travel writing asking how gender shapes formal and thematic approaches to the various generic forms employed to represent and recreate travel While the question of the genre of travel writing has often been debated is it a genre a hybrid genre a sub genre of autobiography and recent years have been much attention to travel writing and gender these have rarely been combined This book sheds light on how the gendered nature of writing and reading about travel affect the genre choices and strategies of writers as well as the way in which travel writing is received It reconsiders traditional and frequently studied forms of travel writing both European and non European In addition it pursues questions about the connections between travel writing and other genres such as the novel and films minor forms including journalism and blogging and new sub genres such as the new nature writing focusing in particular on the political ramifications of genre in travel writing The collection is international in focus with discussions of works by authors from Europe Asia Australia and both North and South America consequently it will be of great interest to scholars and historians in those regions Beyond Bodies Daphne Grace, 2014 Articulations and expressions of gender can be destabilising transgressive revolutionary and radical encompassing both a painful legacy of oppression and a joyous exploration of new experience Analysing key texts from the 19th to 21st centuries this book explores a range of British and Anglophone authors to contextualise women's writing and feminist theory with ongoing debates in consciousness studies Discussing writers who strive to redefine the gendered world of sexualized space whether internal or external mental or physical this book argues how the delusion of gender difference can be addressed and challenged In literary theory and in representations of the female body in literature identity has increasingly become a shifting multiple renegotiable and controversial concept While acknowledging historical and cultural constructions of sexuality writing the body must ultimately incorporate knowledge of human consciousness Here an understanding of consciousness from contemporary science especially quantum theory as the fundamental building block of existence beyond the body allows unique insights into literary texts to elucidate the problem of subjectivity and what it means to be human Including discussion of topics such as feminism and androgyny agency and entrapment masculinities and masquerade insanity and emotion and individual and social empowerment this study also creates a lively engagement with the literary process as a means of fathoming the enigma of consciousness Daphne Grace is Professor of English specializing in postcolonial and transnational literature gender and women s studies in addition to British literature of the 19th to 21st centuries She currently teaches at the University of the Bahamas and has also previously taught at Sussex University England and Eastern Mediterranean University in Cyprus

Orlando at the Crossroads of Gender Alberto García García-Madrid, 2021 Virginia Woolf s Orlando inspired by her friend Vita Sackville West and as a tribute to her unexpectedly became a literary success although it meant for the British writer a break between her more experimental novels To the Lighthouse and The Waves In addition while writing the fantasy novel in which sapphism would play an essential role Virginia Woolf who consciously poured in the narrative her concerns on women s inequality and female stereotypes also began devising her feminist talks which would ultimately become her long essay A Room of One s Own In this regard Orlando becomes a necessary feminist reading in which Virginia Woolf does not exclusively focus on the role of women in literary history but she also explores the meaning of gender and sexuality through characters that transgress the boundaries of the social conventions of each era At the same time Woolf reconstructs Vita Sackville West s family history and returns her friend what had been taken from her Knole House the British writer exceeds the limits of genre fact and fiction and gender masculine and feminine
