Memorandum English November 2014 Grade 9:

The Debt Trap Josh Mitchell, 2021-08-03 AN NPR AND NEW YORK POST BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR From acclaimed Wall Street Journal reporter Josh Mitchell the devastating account The Wall Street Journal of student debt in America In 1981 a new executive at Sallie Mae took home the company's financial documents to review You've got to be shitting me he later told the company's CEO This place is a gold mine Over the next four decades the student loan industry that Sallie Mae and Congress created blew up into a crisis that would submerge a generation of Americans into 1.5 trillion in student debt In The Debt Trap Wall Street Journal reporter Josh Mitchell tells the vivid and compelling Chicago Tribune untold story of the scandals scams predatory actors and government malpractice that have created the behemoth that one of its original architects called a monster As he charts the jaw-dropping Jeffrey Selinger New York Times bestselling author of Who Gets in and Why seventy-year history of student debt in America Mitchell never loses sight of the countless student victims ensnared by an exploitative system that depends on their debt Mitchell also draws alarming parallels to the housing crisis in the late 2000s showing the catastrophic consequences student debt has had on families and the nation's future Mitchell's character-driven narrative is necessary reading The New York Times for anyone wanting to understand the central economic issue of our day

The Methods and Ethics of Researching Unprovenienced Artifacts from East Asia Christopher J. Foster, Glenda Chao, Mercedes Valmisa, 2024-04-17 The immense outpouring of archaeological discoveries this past century has shed new light on ancient East Asia and China in particular Yet in concert with this development another more troubling trend has likewise gained momentum the looting of cultural heritage and the sale of unprovenienced antiquities Scholars face difficult questions from the ethics of working with objects of unknown provenance to the methodological problems inherent in their research The goal of this Element is to encourage scholars to critically examine their relationships to their sources and reflect upon the impact of their research The three essays in this Element present a range of disciplinary perspectives focusing on systemic issues and the nuances of method versus ethics with a case study of the so-called Han board MSS given as a specific illustration This title is also available as open access on Cambridge Core

Following the collapse of the Ottoman Empire Istanbul would lose its position as capital yet remain a crucial urban centre in the new Turkish republic Since the 1950s it has undergone a metamorphosis from a mid sized city to a megapolis Beyoglu historically represented as its most cosmopolitan district and home to European embassies and cultural institutions is a microcosm of these changes This book explores the urban history of Beyoglu via a series of case studies which use previously unexamined archival material to tell the story of its local and international institutions From the German Teutonia club and a centre point of Turkey s cinema culture to influential francophone British and German schools which educated many of Turkey s future elite the book charts the shifting identities of the residents of the district These case studies reveal the effects of changing political circumstances from the rise of nationalism to Turkey s place in the Cold War as well as critically examining Beyoglu s legacy as a multicultural centre In the process the book reveals a picture of resilience cross cultural contact and provides an important contribution to our understanding of present day and historical Istanbul and Beyoglu
