Conservation of Rhinos and Reauthorization of the Sikes Act United States. Congress. House. Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries. Subcommittee on Environment and Natural Resources,1994 Rhino Poaching Janina Naef,2016 Rhino horn is very popular in Asia as it is a status symbol and used as medicine That is one reason why the number of these animals is decreasing continuously In 2007 13 rhinos were poached in South Africa while in 2015 the number increased to 1175 rhinos This Matura Paper deals with problems of rhino poaching in South Africa It poses into the question if it is still possible to see rhinos in the future and examines what should be done to save this species from extinction Therefore 5 theses has been stated which consist of political financial protection measures and enlightenment of local and Asian people Thereby an interview has been conducted with a conservationist in addition to research in a volunteering project in South Africa regarding these theses The results prove the problems already stated If there are no changes in one of these problems the rhino doubtfully has a future The Decline of the Black Rhino in Zimbabwe Tom Milliken,Kristin

Development of a Rhino Anti-poaching Model for Game Farms and Nature Reserves in the Free State Province of South Africa H.L. Jordaan, 2018

During the last ten years the rhino populations of South Africa have suffered under an intense poaching onslaught. This onslaught has moved to the Free State Province of South Africa and there is a justified concern that its rhino populations are at risk. To protect the rhinos in the Province a need exists to manage the risk of poaching through a practical rhino anti-poaching model which can assist to protect them effectively. This Rhino Anti-Poaching Model can determine and predict a poaching risk, can identify weaknesses, can assist to address problem areas and will enable efficient monitoring. It is imperative to know which rhino species occurred in the Free State Province in historical times to ensure that the correct rhino species is protected against the risk of poaching and that they be kept in a suitable habitat. Nine farms in the Free State have rhino as a prefix in their names which may be an indication that rhino did occur in the Province. Various historical photos and literature give a retrospective view and show that there was insufficient browsing vegetation for black rhinos to survive. The occurrence of open grassland, however, suggests that white rhinos did occur in those specific areas during the time of the first pioneers. During this study period a count of rhinos was done and currently there are 669 white rhinos and 11 black rhinos in the Province, thus a total of 680 rhinos in the Free State Province. The South African Constitution mandated the State to enforce measures that will ensure adequate environmental protection for the benefit of future generations. The South African government promulgated a myriad of new environmental legislation. Several international agreements were also introduced as enforcement tools to regulate rhinos. The enforcement measures are noble but out of balance with many inspectors but too few law enforcement officials. It also over-regulates and ensnare officials in minor issues. A brief discussion on the latest technological innovations gives insight to the purpose of its development and effectiveness in combating rhino poaching. There are currently no technical or strategic solutions to save rhinos from poaching; therefore a combination of techniques is needed. Although self-manufactured unconventional devices seem to be more efficient to deceive poachers, a combination with the latest technological equipment and conventional strategies might be the best solution to counter rhino poaching. Free State rhino farmers own 90% of the Province's rhinos. However, these rhino farmers lack the appropriate security measures required to adequately protect their rhinos. A questionnaire was developed and data were collected providing statistics on the current stance of security measures on rhino sites in the Province. It showed that 80% of rhino poaching occurs in rhino camps bordering public roads, 69% of the rhino sites located within 20km from the nearest town reported poaching and 77% of large rhino camps are prone to poaching incidents. 57% of the respondents experienced rhino poaching on their sites. Through the questionnaire it was gathered that rhino farmers in the Province are not vested in the concept of using trained rhino security. A Production Loss Formula was constructed that calculates the production loss of a
