Berson, Michael J. Berson, Colette Gray, 2019-03-01 This volume of the Research in Global Child Advocacy Series explores participatory methodologies and tools that involve children in research Perspectives on the role of children have transitioned from viewing children as objects of research to children as subjects of research to acknowledgement of children as competent contributors and agents throughout the inquiry process Researchers continue to explore approaches that honor the capacity of children drawing on diverse methodologies to elevate children's voices and actively engage them in the production of knowledge Nonetheless despite these developments questions over the extent to which children can be free of adult filters and influence merits sustained scholarly attention The book includes chapters that critically examine methodological approaches that empower children in the research process Contributions include empirical or practitioner pieces that operate from an empowerment paradigm and demonstrate the agentic capacity of children to contribute their perspectives and voices to our understanding of childhood and children's lives The text also features conceptual pieces that challenge existing theoretical frameworks critique research paradigms and analyze dilemmas or tensions related to ethics policy and power relations in the research process      Designing for Autism Spectrum Disorders active living as an integral part of the welfare focus      How To Do Politics With Art Violaine Roussel, Anurima Banerji, 2016-10-26 A major issue in the relation of art to the rest of society is the question of how art penetrates politics

From the perspective of most art scholars this is a question of aesthetics whether politics necessarily pollutes and debases the quality of the arts From the perspective of social science it has been primarily a question of meaning how political messages are conveyed through artistic media Recent work has begun to broaden the study of the arts and politics beyond semiosis and content focus Several strands of scholarship are converging around the general issue of the social relationships within which art takes political form that is how art and artists do politics This perspective of doing moves analysis beyond addressing the meaning of culture to focus on the ways that art is embedded in and intervenes in social relationships activities and institutions This volume brings together an interdisciplinary group of scholars from France and the United States to investigate these directions and themes by exploring the question of how to do politics with art from a comparative standpoint putting sociological approaches in conversation with other disciplinary prisms It will be of interest to scholars of social movements and politicization the sociology of art art history and aesthetics      Official Florida Statutes Florida, 2013
