N. Thut, Joseph Raymond Gerberich, 1949 The balance between the emphases on method and content is not everywhere the same and varies from system to system from school to school from classroom to classroom. This text has been developed over a period of years in response to a need for a new perspective on educational method. Under the influence of the curriculum movement the purposes of the school and the objectives of teaching have undergone serious revision. New content has been introduced to supplement rather than replace the old and a variety of methods are called for and teaching procedures must be adapted to the sought goals. The roles that the local community, the states, and political parties play in the federal system are examined in essays 5 6 and 7 respectively State local and professional roles in citizenship education are discussed in the eighth essay The ninth essay explores how high school U S history and government textbooks approach federalism The concluding essay describes resources on federalism that can be used in curriculum development at the secondary and college levels Many of the essays are followed by topics for further study and suggested readings for teachers RM
