Revisiting Africa's Flagship Universities Local, National and International Dynamics James Ransom, 2024-10-04 Revisiting Africa's Flagship Universities National International and Local Dynamics offers a compelling exploration of Africa's large public higher education institutions. The book delves into the evolving roles of these universities, examining how they navigate their responsibilities at national, international, and local levels. The book uncovers the tensions between global aspirations, national relevance, and local realities. In doing so, this insightful work sheds light on the unique challenges and opportunities faced by African flagship universities, revealing their potential as forces for local, national, and international collaboration and development. Revisiting Africa's Flagship Universities provides rigorous evidence on the relevance of higher education at the local and national level and the interrelation between these and the burgeoning international roles of universities. This book makes for important reading for university staff, policymakers, and anyone interested in the future of higher education in Africa.

Enhancing Innovation in the Ugandan Agri-Food Sector: Robusta Coffee Planting Material & Tropical Fruit Processing World Intellectual Property Organization, Travis J. Lybbert, Gracious Diiro, Dick Kawooya, Sacha Wunsch-Vincent, 2017. Uganda's innovation performance in recent years has consistently outpaced other low income and Sub-Saharan African countries. Though encouraging, this nascent progress will only benefit the broader Ugandan population if policy makers address specific constraints in the innovation systems of the critical agri-food sector, which is hampered by low productivity and profitability. In this report, we explore these constraints using an agricultural value chains framework with particular focus on the Robusta Coffee Planting Material Pipeline and tropical fruit processing.

Oil Wealth and Development in Uganda and Beyond Arnim Langer, Ukoha Ukiwo, Pamela Mbabazi, 2020-01-07. Multidisciplinary perspectives to governance of oil in African countries. Large quantities of oil were discovered in the Albertine Rift Valley in Western Uganda in 2006. The sound management of these oil resources and revenues is undoubtedly one of the key public policy challenges for Uganda, as it is for other African countries with large oil and/or gas endowments. With oil expected to start flowing in 2021, the current book analyses how this East African country is preparing for the challenge of effectively, efficiently, and transparently managing its oil sector and resources. Adopting a multidisciplinary, comprehensive, and comparative approach, the book identifies a broad scope of issues that need to be addressed in order for Uganda to realise the full potential of its oil wealth for national economic transformation. Predominantly grounded in local scholarship and including chapters drawing on the experiences of Nigeria, Ghana, and Kenya, the book blazes a trail on governance of African oil in an era of emerging producers. Oil Wealth and Development in Uganda and Beyond will be of great interest to social scientists and economic and social policy makers in oil-producing countries. It is suitable for course adoption across such disciplines as International Global Affairs, Political Economy, Geography, Environmental Studies, Economics, Energy Studies, Development, Politics, Peace, Security, and African Studies. Contributors: Badru Bukenya, Makerere University; Moses Isabirye.

Discourse on Relevance Within the Academic Profession at Makerere University Kronstad Felde,Tor

Halvorsen,2021-09-20 Democracy and the Discourse on Relevance Within the Academic Profession at Makerere University is set against the backdrop of the spread of neoliberal ideas and reforms since the 1980s While accepting that these ideas are rooted in a longer history the authors reveal how neoliberalism has transformed the university sector and the academic profession In particular they focus on how understandings of what knowledge is relevant and how this is decided have changed Taken as a whole reforms have sought to reorient universities and academics towards economic development in various ways Shifts in how institutions and academics achieve recognition and status combined with the flow of public funds away from the universities and the increasing privatisation of educational services are steadily downgrading the value of public higher education As research universities adopt user and market oriented operating models and prioritise the demands of the corporate sector in their research agendas the sale of intellectual property is increasingly becoming a primary criterion for determining the relevance of academic knowledge All these changes have largely succeeded in transforming the discourse around the role of the academic profession in society In this context Makerere University in Uganda has been lauded as having successfully achieved transformation However far from highlighting the allegedly positive outcomes of this reform this book provides worrying insights into the dissolution of Ugandas academic culture Drawing on interviews with over ninety academics at Makerere University from deans to doctoral students the authors provide first hand accounts of the pressures and problems the reforms have created Disempowered overworked and under resourced many academics are forced to take on consultancy work to make ends meet The evidence presented here stands in stark contrast to the successes claimed by the university However as the authors also show local resistance to the neoliberal model is rising as academics begin to collaborate to regain control over what knowledge is considered relevant and wrestle with deepening democracy The authors careful expos of how neoliberalism devalues academic knowledge and the urgency of countering this trend makes Democracy and the Discourse on Relevance Within the Academic Profession at Makerere University highly relevant for anyone working in higher education or involved in shaping policy for this sector Investing in Reproductive,

Maternal, Newborn, Child, and Adolescent Health in Uganda Elizabeth Asege Ekochu, Julia Mensah, Rogers Ayiko, Stephen Kisembe Kiirya, Brendan Michael Hayes, Collins Chansa, Richard Crabbe, Grace Murindwa, Marc DeFrancis, 2024-03-22 In Uganda conditions in reproductive maternal newborn child and adolescent health RMNCAH remain the primary drivers of morbidity and mortality accounting for 60 percent of years of life lost The high burden of these conditions can be attributed to a poor quality of care resulting from inadequate financial human and material resources compounded by weak multisectoral coordination Moreover the country s high population growth rate and a young population imply that RMNCAH service delivery will continue to dominate health sector reforms even with the increasing prevalence of noncommunicable and infectious diseases Over the past two decades Uganda has focused on improving the quality of RMNCAH service delivery leading to declines in the maternal infant and under five mortality ratios and the increased use of modern contraception among married women However the neonatal mortality and teenage pregnancy rates have stagnated and the low civil registration of births and deaths remains challenging Investing in Reproductive Maternal Newborn Child and Adolescent Health in Uganda What Have We Learned and Where Do We Go from Here comprises 12 studies conducted as part of the RMNCAH Operational Research Program drafted between 2019 and 2021 and finalized and disseminated in October 2022 across 45 districts of Uganda with funding from Sweden and the World Bank These studies underscore important lessons learned and offer suggestions for enhancing the delivery of RMNCAH interventions Each chapter represents one study and discusses service delivery the health workforce financing health information systems and governance and leadership Two appendixes summarize key findings and recommendations and explain the roles of key stakeholders in the RMNCAH Operational Research Program

The Paris Framework for Climate Change Capacity Building Mizan R Khan, J. Timmons Roberts, Saleemul Huq, Victoria Hoffmeister, 2018-04-09 The Paris Framework for Climate Change Capacity Building pioneers a new era of climate change governance performing the foundational job of clarifying what is meant by the often ad hoc one off uncoordinated ineffective and unsustainable practices of the past decade described as capacity building to address climate change As an alternative this book presents a framework on how to build effective and sustainable capacity systems to meaningfully tackle this long term problem Such a reframing of capacity building itself requires means of implementation The authors combine their decades long experiences in climate negotiations developing climate solutions climate activism and peer reviewed research to chart a realistic roadmap for the implementation of this alternative framework for capacity building As a result this book convincingly makes the case that universities as the highest and sustainable seats of learning and research in the developing countries should be the central hub of capacity building there This will be a valuable resource for students researchers and policy makers in the areas of climate change and environmental studies
