Memorandum Of 25 September 2014 For Physical Sciences

Jean P. Palutikof, Sarah L. Boulter, Jon
Barnett, David Rissik

Memorandum Of 25 September 2014 For Physical Sciences:

Progress in Physics, 2014      Property Rights in Outer Space Matthew Johnson, 2024-05-28 This book explores the role of private mining rights in the utopian imaginary of space colonisation. It presents a transdisciplinary account of the new and evolving legislative frameworks that have been established in anticipation of commercial exploitation of the mineral resources of the off world frontier. Written in an engaging style, the book investigates a novel case study in the history of capitalism and the commons: the emergence of a nascent space mining industry undergirded by a contentious legislative framework. In 2015, the US passed laws that would recognise the claims of US corporations to own and sell space resources. This unilateral act of pre-emptive law making would appear to contravene the terms of the UN Outer Space Treaty 1967, which declared that the exploration and use of outer space should be for the benefit of all mankind and not subject to national appropriation. Using this central dynamic between privately held mining rights and outer space as a global commons, Matthew Johnson constructs an historical sociology of space mining from the deep historical roots of common and private property to the contemporary networks of neoliberalism that have engaged with the commercialisation of space activity. The anticipatory expansion of private property claims beyond the Earth both resonates with and problematises the terrain of political history, such as the tensions between states and markets, public law and private power, the commons and exclusive property. The emerging cosmopolitics of off world private property mirrors and is often explicitly embedded within neoliberal geopolitics, prompting urgent questions about how we can reaffirm principles of democracy and common heritage in the international laws of Earth and space. This book is compelling reading for anyone interested in the social study of space, law, economics, technology, politics, and property rights.      The Budget of the United States Government United States. Office of Management and Budget, 2013      Applied Studies in Climate Adaptation Jean P. Palutikof, Sarah L. Boulter, Jon Barnett, David Rissik, 2014-12-31 The book advances knowledge about climate change adaptation practices through a series of case studies. It presents important evidence about adaptation practices in agriculture, businesses, the coastal zone, community services, disaster management, ecosystems, indigenous populations and settlements, and infrastructure. In addition to 38 case studies across these sectors, the book contains horizon scoping essays from international experts in adaptation research, including Hallie Eakin, Susanne Moser, Jonathon Overpeck, Bill Solecki, and Gary Yohe. Australia's social ecological systems have a long history of adapting to climate variability and change, and in recent decades has been a world leader in implementing and researching adaptation, making this book of universal relevance to all those working to adapt our environment and societies to climate change.      Budget of the United States Government United States.
