Biodiversity, Food and Nutrition Danny Hunter, Teresa Borelli, Eliot Gee, 2020-04-29 This book examines the challenges and impacts of poor diets and nutrition from current food systems and the potential contribution of biodiversity and ecosystem services in addressing these problems There is a strong need for a multi level cross sectoral approach that connects food biodiversity conservation and sustainable use to address critical problems in our current food systems including malnutrition Building on research from the Biodiversity for Food and Nutrition Project BFN which aims to better link biodiversity diets and nutrition the book presents a multi country cross sectoral analysis of initiatives that have promoted local food biodiversity in four countries Brazil Kenya Turkey and Sri Lanka This book offers a comprehensive summary of the BFN Project results in each of the four countries along with lessons learned and how this work could be upscaled or applied in other regions It argues that the strategic promotion and use of food biodiversity is critical in uniting attempts to address conservation nutrition and livelihood concerns The book is structured around chapters and case studies encompassing the BFN Project with specific experiences related by partners who played key roles in the work being done in each country By offering a comparative view capable of furthering dialogue between the respective countries it is also meant to connect the individual cases for a greater than the sum of its parts effect This means consideration of how localized activities can be adapted to more countries and regions Therefore the book addresses global issues with a foot planted firmly in the grounded case study locations This book will be of great interest to policymakers practitioners and NGOs working on food and nutrition as well as students and scholars of agriculture food systems and sustainable development

Science Research and Education in Africa Alain L. Fymat, Joachim Kapalanga, 2017-03-07 For various economic and political reasons many African countries lag behind the rest of the industrialised world in scientific and medical research and development However the presence of intellectual islands scattered across the continent gives hope that this is only a transient situation on the cusp of undergoing a profound and beneficial change For this reason the Society for the Advancement of Science in Africa was established to catalyse and contribute to this needed evolution Its mission is to contribute to Africa s economic advancement and sustainability through science research education and innovation This book provides a selection of papers from the Advancement of Science in Africa s third annual conference The conference was held under the overarching theme of science research and education in Africa with several important sub themes including but not limited to improving health research and disease surveillance education epidemic diseases with high mortality promoting women s interest in science careers fostering youth development with science education The collection illustrates how although the chapter contributors come from various countries and universities representing their own academic research they all share a common interest in advancing science research and education in Africa
