Exploring the Transnational Neighbourhood Stephan Ehrig,Britta C. Jung,Gad Schaffer,2022-10-13 Urban neighbourhoods have come to occupy the public imagination as a litmus test of migration with some areas hailed as multicultural success stories while others are framed as ghettos In an attempt to break down this dichotomy Exploring the Transnational Neighbourhood filters these debates through the lenses of geography anthropology and literary and cultural studies By establishing the interdisciplinary concept of the transnational neighbourhood it presents these localities whether Clichy sous Bois Belfast El Segundo Barrio or Williamsburg as densely packed contact zones where disparate cultures meet in often highly asymmetrical relations producing a constantly shifting local and cultural knowledge about identity belonging and familiarity Exploring the Transnational Neighbourhood offers a pivotal response to one of the key questions of our time How do people create a sense of community within an exceedingly globalised context By focusing on the neighbourhood as a central space of transcultural everyday experience within three different levels of discourse i e the virtual the physical local and the transnational global the multidisciplinary contributions explore bottom up practices of community building alongside cultural social economic and historical barriers Herostories Kristín Svava

Grand Hotel Europa calls to mind Nabokov Tom Wolfe Baudrillard Umberto Eco Wes Anderson a novel of incorrigible high spirits Rand Richards Cooper The New York Times Book Review A sweeping atmospheric novel about European identity centered on a hotel that encapsulates the continent's manifold contradictions The love of my life lives in my past Despite the alliteration it is a terrible line to have to write I don't want to come to the conclusion just as the hotel I'm staying in and the continent it is named after that the best times are behind me and that I've little more to expect of the future than living off my past A writer takes up residence in the stately but decaying Grand Hotel Europa in order to contemplate where things went wrong with Clio an art historian and the love of his life His recollections take him back to when they first met in Genoa his wanton visits to her in Venice and their dulcet trips to Malta Palmaria Portovenere and the Cinque Terre in their thrilling search for the last painting made by Caravaggio Meanwhile he becomes fascinated by the mysteries of the Grand Hotel Europa and the memorably eccentric characters who inhabit it all of whom seem to hail from a halcyon era All the while globalization is laying claim to even this place where a sense of lost glory hangs sulkily in the air Grand Hotel Europa is Ilja Leonard Pfeijffer's masterly novel of the old continent where there's so much history that there hardly seems space left for a future Cinematic lyrical and brimming with humor this is a novel about the European condition which like the staff and residents of the Grand Hotel Europa may have already seen its best days Ondraaglijke lichtheid Ilja Pfeijffer, 2019-09-25 Wat de twijfel is voor de wetenschap schreef de Deense filosoof Søren Kierkegaard 1813-1855 dat is de ironie voor het persoonlijk leven Maar in het maatschappelijk debat leidt ironie al gauw tot onverschilligheid En dat wist Kierkegaard ook De ironicus maakt van alles een grap en neemt niets meer serieus teneinde zichzelf te redden In onze gepolariseerde en geridiculiseerde debaatcultuur
