The Pluto System After New Horizons S. Alan Stern,2021-08-10 Once perceived as distant cold dark and seemingly unknowable Pluto had long been marked as the farthest and most unreachable frontier for solar system exploration After Voyager accomplished its final planetary reconnaissance at Neptune in 1989 Pluto and its cohort in the Kuiper Belt beckoned as the missing puzzle piece for completing the first reconnaissance of our solar system In the decades following Voyager a mission to the Pluto system was not only imagined but also achieved culminating with the historic 2015 flyby by the New Horizons spacecraft Pluto and its satellite system the Pluto system including its largest moon Charon have been revealed to be worlds of enormous complexity that fantastically exceed preconceptions The Pluto System After New Horizons seeks to become the benchmark for synthesizing our understanding of the Pluto system The volume s lead editor is S Alan Stern who also serves as NASA s New Horizons Principal Investigator co editors Richard P Binzel William M Grundy Jeffrey M Moore and Leslie A Young are all co investigators on New Horizons Leading researchers from around the globe have spent the last five years assimilating Pluto system flyby data returned from New Horizons The chapters in this volume form an enduring foundation for ongoing study and understanding of the Pluto system The volume also advances insights into the nature of dwarf planets and Kuiper Belt objects providing a cornerstone for planning new missions that may return to the Pluto system and explore others of the myriad important worlds beyond Neptune History and Precedent in Environmental Design

Anatol Rapoport,2013-06-29 This book is about a new and different way of approaching and studying the history of the built environment and the use of historical precedents in design However although what I am proposing is new for what is currently called architectural history both my approach and even my conclusions are not that new in other fields as I discovered when I attempted to find supporting evidence In fact of all the disciplines dealing with various aspects of the study of the past architectural history seems to have changed least in the ways I am advocating There is currently a revival of interest in the history of architecture and urban form a similar interest applies to theory vernacular design and culture environment relations After years of neglect the study of history and the use of historical precedent are again becoming important However that interest has not led to new approaches to the subject nor have its bases been examined This I try to do In so doing I discuss a more rigorous and I would argue a more valid way of looking at historical data and hence of using such data in a theory of the built environment and as precedent in environmental design Underlying this is my view of Environment Behavior Studies CEBS as an emerging theory rather than as data to help design based on current theory Although this will be the subject of another book a summary statement of this position may be useful Books in Print ,1994
