Military War Strategy Guide Game:

War, Strategy, and Military Effectiveness Williamson Murray, 2011-09-30 This collection of articles represents Professor Williamson Murray's efforts to elucidate the role that history should play in thinking about both the present and the future. They reflect three disparate themes in Professor Murray's work: his deep fascination with history and those who have acted in the past; his fascination with the similarities in human behavior between the past and the present; and his belief that the study of military and strategic history can be of real use to those who will confront the daunting problems of war and peace in the twenty-first century. The first group of essays addresses the relevance of history to an understanding of the present and to an understanding of the possibilities of the future. The second addresses the possible direct uses of history to think through the problems involved in the creation of effective military institutions. The final group represents historical case studies that serve to illuminate the present.

Catalogue of the Free Public Library Public Library of New South Wales, 1902 Deep Violence Joanna Bourke, 2015-03-01 2014 marks the 100th anniversary of the declaration of the First World War and with it comes a deluge of books, documentaries, feature films, and radio programs. We will hear a great deal about the horror of the battlefield. Bourke acknowledges wider truths: war is unending and violence is deeply entrenched in our society. But it doesn't have to be this way. This book equips readers with an understanding of the history, culture, and politics of warfare in order to interrogate and resist an increasingly violent world. Wounding the World investigates the ways that violence and war have become internalized in contemporary human consciousness in everything from the way we speak to the way our children play with one another to the way that we ascribe social characteristics to our guns and other weapons. With a remarkable depth of insight, Bourke argues for a radical overhaul of our collective stance towards militarism from one that simply aims to reduce violence against people to one that would eradicate all violence. Her message is judicious and vital knowledge about weapons and the violence they bring has simply become too important to cast aside or leave to the experts. Supplementary Catalogue of the Public Library of New South Wales, Sydney, Reference Department Public Library of New South Wales.
