Module 6 Analyzing Financial Statements

Note: This summary is longer and more comprehensive than most Module Summaries, as it will be helpful for you to have a list of all the ratios we covered in this module in one place.

- Analyzing financial statements is critical in order to understand the performance of a business. To do so, we can use different types of ratios that uncover important relationships between financial statement items.
- Ratios are typically most useful when making comparisons to other companies or to the past performance of the company itself. Therefore, it's important to first get an overall understanding of the company and the industry in which it operates.
- One of the most commonly evaluated ratios is a firm's return on equity or ROE, which shows the return that a business generated during a period on the equity invested in the business by the owners of the business.

$$\text{Return on Equity (ROE)} = \frac{\text{Net Income}}{\text{Owners' Equity}}$$

- The DuPont Framework expands the ROE formula to consist of three factors:
