Neptune, 1996 Calculus, with Analytic Geometry Ron Larson, Robert P. Hostetler, 1986 A textbook to explain and teach various aspects of calculus Larson Alg for College Students Ron Larson, 1992 The book has two basic goals First to help students develop proficiency in algebra and second to show students how algebra can be used as a modeling language for real life problems Pref Advanced Linear Algebra Nicholas Loehr, 2014-04-10 Designed for advanced undergraduate and beginning graduate students in linear or abstract algebra Advanced Linear Algebra covers theoretical aspects of the subject along with examples computations and proofs It explores a variety of advanced topics in linear algebra that highlight the rich interconnections of the subject to geometry algebra analysis combinatorics numerical computation and many other areas of mathematics The book s 20 chapters are grouped into six main areas algebraic structures matrices structured matrices geometric aspects of linear algebra modules and multilinear algebra The level of abstraction gradually increases as students proceed through the text moving from matrices to vector spaces to modules Each chapter consists of a mathematical vignette devoted to the development of one specific topic Some chapters look at introductory material from a sophisticated or abstract viewpoint while others provide elementary expositions of more theoretical concepts Several chapters offer unusual perspectives or novel treatments of standard results Unlike similar advanced mathematical texts this one minimizes the dependence of each chapter on material found in previous chapters so that students may immediately turn to the relevant chapter without first wading through pages of earlier material to access the necessary algebraic background and theorems Chapter summaries contain a structured list of the principal definitions and results End of chapter exercises aid students in digesting the material Students are encouraged to use a computer algebra system to help solve computationally intensive exercises
