

AI for Africa, By Africa And It's Just Beginning

In May, 600+ students joined us at JKUAT.

They learned, coded, asked questions, and imagined bold futures.

Now we're heading to Kabarak University on July 18.

Not for another event. But for a louder, larger call to action.

This is AI Safari 2.0 — built for Africa, by Africa.

Africa and Sustainable Global Value Chains Regina Frei,Sherwat Ibrahim,Temidayo Akenroye,2022-02-07 This book contains a collection of studies on the interactions between businesses in Africa and Global Value Chains GVCs in terms of social environmental and economic sustainability This is particularly pertinent given the asymmetrical power distribution between the global buyer and the African supplier their governance relationships and the ongoing competitive pressures to reduce costs and increase flexibility to meet GVC demands Rather than focusing on the sustainability of a single organization GVCs address the sustainability of inter firm value chains and global industries as a whole With little differentiation between value chain creation and social environmental degradation extending to people and raw material extraction upstream and disposal or recycling downstream sustainability issues need to be at the forefront of African business research interests Nowadays sustainability is considered a competitive advantage for a firm looking to join a GVC Whether sustainability is approached from the viewpoint of an exporting firm motivated to join a GVC in its respective industry or whether a firm s continuing contractual or collaborative relationship with a buyer depends on its compliance with sustainability standards both approaches focus on the ability of firms in Africa to benefit from joining sustainable GVCs
