Marketing across cultures with a focus on Islamic Marketing Sanja Hajdarpasic, 2015-06-08 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2014 in the subject Communications Public Relations Advertising Marketing Social Media grade A Oxford Brookes University course Islamic Marketing language English abstract Due to the acceleration of globalization and enormous growth of Muslim population interest in Islamic marketing increased significantly in the past years The study of this dissertation aims to investigate to what extent Islam as a religion affects marketing and its components It was hypothesized that Islam affects marketing in Islamic markets significantly depending on the country and on the specific industry. The author intends to fill in a research gap in this area by narrowing its focus on the promotional strategy of products and services in Islamic markets. The conclusion of the study is based on evaluation of primary and secondary research data. The outcome of the study showed that Islam indeed has meaningful impact on the business issues generally, particularly on the marketing. Marketers and companies should bear in mind the existing distinction between certain industries and countries as Islam does not affect all of them equally.

A cross-cultural perspective has become vital to most contemporary management research. The increasingly global business environment has led to both a greater practical need for international management research and a questioning of whether management science follows universal rules. This book addresses the particular characteristics of international management research, including the important role of culture. A key introduction provides a comprehensive overview of the background, major issues, and different approaches to international management research. The second chapter offers a typology of research designs in international management and shows the role culture plays in such designs. The theories and paradigms that serve international and cross-cultural management research are examined in the third chapter. Chapter four examines and defines culture, its process, and components. The final chapter pulls the describing arguments together to show how the construct of culture can be used in international management research. Throughout, the author provides numerous illustrative examples from key empirical studies.
