Linde Hydraulic Control (LHC)

Digital electro-hydraulic controller

Instead of a control unit, an integrated control unit features the above control technology. Instead of a hydraulic controller, a computer electronic controller is used, which provides a wide range of functions for the drive unit and the working hydraulics (2).

Adaptation to various trucks

The electronic control unit is capable of controlling hydraulic functions with different drive systems. To ensure efficient and safe operation, each truck model has a control unit that is specifically adapted to the truck.

Troubleshooting

The operation of the electronic control unit is indicated by various status lights. The operation of the hydraulic system and system errors, and the status of the hydraulic system are indicated on the control unit. In addition, the control unit provides a variety of functions, including the status of the hydraulic system.

- Working light function
- Hydraulic function of the manual control system
- The truck status and control system status and all the other status
- The truck status (e.g. emergency function, the manual control system status and all the other status)
- An error code appears on the display

These functions can be controlled by switching off the control system and the hydraulic system. During a fault, the control unit shows whether the error is a fault or a warning. If the error is a fault, the truck status is indicated. If the error is a warning, the error code appears on the display and one of the functions of the control unit is indicated.

Changing the controller

4.1.1.1.1.1

Problems regarding component damage due to electronic damage. Component damage is caused by the control unit and the control unit is damaged.

The controller is equipped with a "Reset" button, which is located in the front of the control unit. The control unit status and the status of the control unit are indicated on the front of the control unit.

4.1.1.1.2

If the controller is damaged, the control unit status is indicated on the control unit. The control unit status is indicated on the control unit.
