Lifesciences Grade 11 Paoer 2 Nov 2014:

Informed is best Amy Brown,2019 From the moment you share the news that you are pregnant or have a new baby it feels like everyone becomes an expert Did you see that headline Did you hear that story on TV Have you heard the latest about what they say is best In a world overflowing with information telling you what is best for you and your baby making decisions can feel overwhelming Who do you trust Who is telling the truth And how do you know if what they are saying is right for you How By becoming your own expert in sorting the media spin and politics from the actual facts and data This isn't a book that is going to tell you which decisions to make or that there is ever one right answer It is not going to tell you that the same thing is always best for everyone Instead this is a guide to help you evaluate information and evidence to decide what is right for you your body and your baby In three main parts it will firstly open your eyes to how information is shared in the media and how this can affect our thinking and decision making Next it will help you spot who is funding leading and promoting research and how this can affect the content of what is shared Finally it will talk you through reading understanding and evaluating evidence for yourself across topics in pregnancy birth and caring for babies You ll learn how to spot weaknesses in methods used how to determine the real risk for you and your baby and how wider context and other factors can influence what research means for you Information is power Making your own decisions that are right for you is empowering Informed is best Women in Science Now Lisa M. P. Munoz,2023-10-31 Silver Medal in the Social Change and Social Justice Category 2024 Nautilus Book Awards Winner 2024 Choice Outstanding Academic Title Women working in the sciences face obstacles at virtually every step along their career paths From subtle slights to blatant biases deep systemic problems block women from advancing or push them out of science and technology entirely Women in Science Now examines solutions to this persistent gender gap offering new perspectives on how to make science more equitable and inclusive for all This book shares stories and insights of women from a range of backgrounds working in various disciplines illustrating the journeys that brought them to the sciences the challenges they faced along the way and the important contributions they have made to their fields Lisa M P Munoz combines these narratives with a wealth of data to illuminate the size and scope of the challenges women scientists face while highlighting research based solutions to help overcome these obstacles She presents groundbreaking studies in social psychology and organizational behavior that are informing novel approaches for combating historic and ongoing inequities Through a combined focus on personal experiences and social science research this timely book provides both a path toward greater gender equity and an inspiring vision of science and scientists
