The Genocide Continues Karen Stote, 2025-10-28T00:00:00Z Indigenous Peoples in Canada have experienced coerced sterilization under eugenics legislation since the 1930s and the violence has never stopped even though eugenics fell into disrepute In The Genocide Continues Karen Stote traces the historical political economic and policy context informing the coerced sterilization of Indigenous women from 1970 onward She shows how a powerful idea paved the way for the expanded violations of Indigenous People's bodies and futures That idea was population control a concern with who occupied land and how resources were distributed and it was a central thread guiding public health interventions from eugenics to family planning The Genocide Continues offers new insights to show how federal provincial and corporate activities intersected to criminalize and regulate Indigenous reproduction Saskatchewan which first established family planning policies in the 1970s and is now the province with the highest number of Indigenous women coming forward with experiences of coerced sterilization is Stote's case study to demonstrate why family planning activities consistently targeted Indigenous women Stote weaves compelling archival evidence with principled storytelling to connect violence against Indigenous bodies to violence against Indigenous lands Unless and until colonialism extractivism and dispossession are addressed a genocide against Indigenous peoples will continue
