Study Guide: Chapter Two

10. Even though father's business has been destroyed for a third time, he doesn't not complain. Why not? He doesn't want to burden Mama any further.

11. Why does it seem that the Taliban are willing to let people watch videos, even though they have banned the practice? They don't want to totally destroy the market in Kabul.

12. How did Latifa and her friends act when they used to encounter a woman wearing a Chador on the street? They would sort of make fun of the woman and her attire. They would call her a bottle on an upside-down candlestick.

13. Why does Latifa refuse to go out under the Chador with Farida? She doesn't want to hide her face. She doesn't think the Taliban should be allowed to misinterpret the Koran in this manner.

14. When Latifa finally decides to venture outside after months of being indoors, what happens? She and her friends end up running away from the Taliban. They think they are being chased, but instead the Taliban were beating some other women for wearing white shoes— the color of the Taliban flag.

15. How does Latifa know that the Taliban really don't care about the Koran at all? While they were beating one of the women, the book fell out of the woman's hands and it hit the ground. All good Muslims know that the Koran must never touch the ground. If they cared, they would've picked it up.

16. Which year is referred to as the Afghan Women's Year? 1975.

17. Why is Mama dismissed from one of her early jobs at a childcare center? She argued with a Soviet nurse who was endangering children. Her supervisor demanded that she apologize for arguing with the woman and Mama refused, so she was fired.

18. Asaf's mother had waved a white flag out the window when the Taliban arrived, but now she throws stones at the soldiers when they pass by her house. What changed? They killed her son right in front of her.

19. What happens when Marguerite, a colleague of Soraya's, rips off her Chador? The rest of the Afghan women follow suit. They demand that Marguerite be sent back to them before they will disperse.

20. Even though the rebellion seemed to work slightly, Latifa and the others are skeptical about rebelling again. Why? They don't have a voice. They're not even allowed to show their faces. Who will speak for them? Protect them?
