

The core values of my life

My values have played a role at different moments in my life. Sometimes, at some point in my life, I have many values that work. One example is when I attended school sports. In my ITE education days, I was a member of the swimming team. I heard from my friends, freshman which they influence me to join. However, this team will prove to be a bigger commitment than I thought. Every training day, there will be two hours of practice, and sometimes may be extended. Everyone knows that every Friday is the day we following are forward. Unfortunately, The swimming training falls on every Wednesday and Friday night, 7 at pm. In many cases, the swimming training may be three days, because of participating in the school competition which means you not only need to train extra but also have to swim at least 2km per training. This proved to be a time when one of my values came into play. Honestly, I will be tired for many days. Sometimes it is because of the long week in school, the rest of the time due to practice throughout the practice session and then all day long on weekends. There are some points this season and I'm not sure if I want to practice that day or go to a regatta that weekend. I will make a rough patch, just do not want to do it again. However, one of my core values will work.

Commitment. I have to remind myself that I made a commitment to the team and said I would be lining up all season. I have already said my words through good or bad days, I will attend and practice every day and I will be in line for every game. Although hard, I do not want to go back to myself and myself and just quit in the middle of the season. I not only disappoint myself but also disappoint my teammates and coaches. I cannot give up, I'm glad I've never done it before. In every difficult part of the season, I did it all.
