connections he gained employment with Sir Henry Bulwer during the latter's service as lieutenant governor of Natal South Africa. Rider Haggard travelled to southern Africa in 1875 and remained in the country for six years during which time he served as Master of the High Court of the Transvaal and an adjutant of the Pretoria Horse. King Solomon's Mines (1885) is a popular novel by the Victorian adventure writer and fabulist Sir H. Rider Haggard. It tells of a search of an unexplored region of Africa by a group of adventurers led by Allan Quatermain for the missing brother of one of the party. It is the first English adventure novel set in Africa and is considered to be the genesis of the Lost World literary genre. The book was first published in September 1885 amid considerable fanfare with billboards and posters around London announcing 'The Most Amazing Book Ever Written'. It became an immediate best seller. By the late 19th century explorers were uncovering ancient civilisations around the world such as Egypt's Valley of the Kings and the empire of Assyria. Inner Africa remained largely unexplored and King Solomon's Mines, the first novel of African adventure published in English, captured the public's imagination. The King Solomon of the book's title is the Biblical king renowned both for his wisdom and for his wealth. A number of sites have been suggested as the location of his mines, including the workings at the Timna valley near Eilat. Research published in September 2013 has shown that this site was in use during the 10th century BC as a copper mine, possibly by the Edomites, 2/3 of whom the Bible reports were rivals of and frequently at war with King Solomon. Allan Quatermain, an adventurer and white hunter based in Durban in what is now South Africa, is approached by aristocrat Sir Henry Curtis and his friend Captain Good, seeking his help finding Sir Henry's brother who was last seen travelling north into the unexplored interior on a quest for the fabled King Solomon's Mines. Quatermain has a mysterious map purporting to lead to the mines but had never taken it seriously. However, he agrees to lead an expedition in return for a share of the treasure or a stipend for his son if he is killed along the way. He has little hope they will return alive but reasons that he has already outlived most people in his profession so dying in this manner at least ensures that his son will be provided for. They also take along a mysterious native Umbopa who seems more regal, handsome and well-spoken than most porters of his class but who is very anxious to join the party.
