Breznitz, Henry Etzkowitz, 2017-09-19 Universities have become essential players in the generation of knowledge and innovation Through the commercialization of technology they have developed the ability to influence regional economic growth By examining different commercialization models this book analyses technology transfer at universities as part of a national and regional system It provides insight as to why certain models work better than others and reaffirms that technology transfer programs must be linked to their regional and commercial environments Using a global perspective on technology commercialization this book divides the discussion between developed and developing countries according to the level of university commercialization capability Critical cases as well as country reports examine the policies and culture of university involvement in economic development relationships between university and industry and the commercialization of technology first developed at universities In addition each chapter provides examples from specific universities in each country from a regional national and international comparative perspective This book includes articles by leading practitioners as well as researchers and will be highly relevant to all those with an interest in innovation studies
