Visualisation and Epistemological Access to Mathematics Education in Southern Africa Marc Schäfer, 2023-04-27 This book demonstrates that using visualisation processes in mathematics education can help to enhance teaching and learning and bridge the inequality gap that exists between well resourced and under resourced schools in Southern Africa Drawing on classroom research conducted in the Southern African region it examines how epistemological access in a context of gross inequality can be constructively addressed by providing research based solutions and recommendations The book outlines the visualisation process as an integral but often overlooked process of mathematics teaching and learning It goes beyond the traditional understanding of visualisation processes such as picture forming and using tools and considers visualisation processes that are semiotic in nature and includes actions such as gestures in combination with language It adds value to the visualisation in mathematics education research discourse and deliberation in Africa With a unique focus on Southern Africa and open avenues for further research and collaboration in the region it will be a highly relevant reading for researchers academics and post graduate students of mathematics education comparative education and social justice education

South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull, Jonathan D. Jansen, 2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa's leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90/10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood
