Division of Technical Information, Character Map In Non-abelian Cohomology, The: Twisted, Differential, And Generalized Domenico Fiorenza,Hisham Sati,Urs Schreiber,2023-08-11 This book presents a novel development of fundamental and fascinating aspects of algebraic topology and mathematical physics extra ordinary and further generalized cohomology theories enhanced to twisted and differential geometric form with focus on firstly their rational approximation by generalized Chern character maps and then the resulting charge quantization laws in higher n form gauge field theories appearing in string theory and the classification of topological quantum materials Although crucial for understanding famously elusive effects in strongly interacting physics the relevant higher non abelian cohomology theory higher gerbes has had an esoteric reputation and remains underdeveloped Devoted to this end this book s theme is that various generalized cohomology theories are best viewed through their classifying spaces or moduli stacks not necessarily infinite loop spaces from which perspective the character map is really an incarnation of the fundamental theorem of rational homotopy theory thereby not only uniformly subsuming the classical Chern character and a multitude of scattered variants that have been proposed but now seamlessly applicable in the hitherto elusive generality of twisted differential and non abelian cohomology In laying out this result with plenty of examples this book provides a modernized introduction and review of fundamental classical topics 1 abstract homotopy theory via model categories 2 generalized cohomology in its homotopical incarnation 3 rational homotopy theory seen via homotopy Lie theory whose fundamental theorem we recast as a twisted non abelian de Rham theorem which naturally induces the twisted non abelian character map Sessional Papers Great Britain.
