Mineral Resources, Grade 11 Carla C. Johnson, Janet B. Walton, Erin E. Peters-Burton, 2022-05-25 What if you could challenge your eleventh graders to come up with a design solution for developing managing and utilizing mineral resources With this volume in the STEM Road Map Curriculum Series you can Mineral Resources outlines a journey that will steer your students toward authentic problem solving while grounding them in integrated STEM disciplines Like the other volumes in the series this book is designed to meet the growing need to infuse real world learning into K 12 classrooms This interdisciplinary three lesson module uses project and problem based learning to help students develop an in depth understanding of mineral resources by researching the utility and impact of particular mineral resources on society Working in teams students will locate quantitative and qualitative data on mineral resources and discern the reliability of the information then use their data to write an opinion article and develop a website to convince readers of the effectiveness of a particular design solution for developing managing and utilizing mineral resources To support this goal students will do the following Explain how mineral resources are located and used in various ways in society Explain why mineral resources are important to society Critically evaluate quantitative and qualitative data about mineral resources Write an opinion article demonstrating their knowledge about competing design solutions for extracting mineral resources The STEM Road Map Curriculum Series is anchored in the Next Generation Science Standards the Common Core State Standards and the Framework for 21st Century Learning In depth and flexible Mineral Resources can be used as a whole unit or in part to meet the needs of districts schools and teachers who are charting a course toward an integrated STEM approach

Policy-Making in the GCC Neil Quilliam, Mark C. Thompson, 2017-09-11 The GCC is a major player in the post 2011 reordering of the Middle East Despite the rise in prominence of individual Gulf states especially Kuwait Qatar Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates and the growth of the GCC as a collective entity surprisingly little attention has been paid to the actual mechanics of policy making in the region This book analyses the vital role that institutions are coming to play in shaping policy in the Gulf Arab states The research coincides with two key developments that have given institutions new importance in the policy process the emergence of a new generation of leaders in the Gulf and the era of low oil prices Both developments along with dramatic demographic change have compelled state and citizens to re evaluate the nature of the social contract that binds them together Contributors assess the changing relationship between state and citizen and evaluate the role that formal and informal institutions play in mediating such change and informing policy The book shows how academic social and economic institutions are responding to the increasingly complex process of decision making where citizens demand better services and further empowerment and states are obliged to seek wider counsel although wanting to retain ultimate authority With contributions from both academics and practitioners this book will be highly relevant for researchers and policymakers alike
