Drawing Futures Bob Sheil, Frédéric Migayrou, Luke Pearson, Laura Allen, 2016-11-11 Drawing Futures brings together international designers and artists for speculations in contemporary drawing for art and architecture Despite numerous developments in technological manufacture and computational design that provide new grounds for designers the act of drawing still plays a central role as a vehicle for speculation There is a rich and long history of drawing tied to innovations in technology as well as to revolutions in our philosophical understanding of the world In reflection of a society now underpinned by computational networks and interfaces allowing hitherto unprecedented views of the world the changing status of the drawing and its representation as a political act demands a platform for reflection and innovation Drawing Futures will present a compendium of projects writings and interviews that critically reassess the act of drawing and where its future may lie Drawing Futures focuses on the discussion of how the field of drawing may expand synchronously alongside technological and computational developments The book coincides with an international conference of the same name taking place at The Bartlett School of Architecture UCL in November 2016 Bringing together practitioners from many creative fields the book discusses how drawing is changing in relation to new technologies for the production and dissemination of ideas

A Geometric Theory for Hypergraph Matching Peter Keevash, Richard Mycroft, 2014-12-20 The authors develop a theory for the existence of perfect matchings in hypergraphs under quite general conditions Informally speaking the obstructions to perfect matchings are geometric and are of two distinct types space barriers from convex geometry and divisibility barriers from arithmetic lattice based constructions To formulate precise results they introduce the setting of simplicial complexes with minimum degree sequences which is a generalisation of the usual minimum degree condition They determine the essentially best possible minimum degree sequence for finding an almost perfect matching Furthermore their main result establishes the stability property under the same degree assumption if there is no perfect matching then there must be a space or divisibility barrier This allows the use of the stability method in proving exact results Besides recovering previous results the authors apply our theory to the solution of two open problems on hypergraph packings the minimum degree threshold for packing tetrahedra in graphs and Fischer's conjecture on a multipartite form of the Hajnal Szemerédi Theorem Here they prove the exact result for tetrahedra and the asymptotic result for Fischer's conjecture since the exact result for the latter is technical they defer it to a subsequent paper

Analysis of the Hodge Laplacian on the Heisenberg Group Detlef Müller, Marco M. Peloso, Fulvio Ricci, 2014-12-20 The authors consider the Hodge Laplacian Δ_k on the Heisenberg group H_n endowed with a left invariant and U_n invariant Riemannian metric For $0 \leq k \leq 2n-1$ let Δ_k denote the Hodge Laplacian restricted to k forms In this paper they address three main related questions 1 whether the L^2 and L^p Hodge decompositions 1 Studies in Intelligence, 2016 Applications of Operational Research and Mathematical Models in Management Miltiadis Chalikias, 2020-11-17 This book Applications of Operational Research

Space Information Networks Quan Yu, 2019-01-23 This book constitutes the proceedings of the Third International Conference on Space Information Networks SINC 2018 held in Changchun China in August 2018 The 17 full and 7 short papers presented in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 140 submissions The papers are organized in topical sections on architecture and efficient networking mechanism theories and methods of high speed transmission and sparse characterization and fusion processing

Local Entropy Theory of a Random Dynamical System Anthony H. Dooley, Guohua Zhang, 2014-12-20 In this paper the authors extend the notion of a continuous bundle random dynamical system to the setting where the action of \mathbb{R} or \mathbb{N} is replaced by the action of an infinite countable discrete amenable group Given such a system and a monotone sub additive invariant family of random continuous functions they introduce the concept of local fiber topological pressure and establish an associated variational principle relating it to measure theoretic entropy They also discuss some variants of this variational principle The authors introduce both topological and measure theoretic entropy tuples for continuous bundle random dynamical systems and apply variational principles to obtain a relationship between these of entropy tuples Finally they give applications of these results to general topological dynamical systems recovering and extending many recent results in local entropy theory

Digital Technology and the Practices of Humanities Research Jennifer Edmond, 2020-01-30 How does technology impact research practices in the humanities How does digitisation shape scholarly identity How do we negotiate trust in the digital realm What is scholarship what forms can it take and how does it acquire authority This diverse set of essays demonstrate the importance of asking such questions bringing together established and emerging scholars from a variety of disciplines at a time when data is increasingly being incorporated as an input and output in humanities sources and publications Major themes addressed include the changing nature of scholarly publishing in a digital age the different kinds of gate keepers for scholarship and the difficulties of effectively assessing the impact of digital resources The essays bring theoretical and practical perspectives into conversation offering readers not only comprehensive examinations of past and present discourse on digital scholarship but tightly focused case studies This timely volume illuminates the different forces underlying the shifting practices in humanities research today with especial focus on how humanists take ownership of and are empowered by technology in unexpected ways Digital Technology and the Practices of Humanities Research is essential reading for scholars students and general readers interested in the changing culture of research practices in the humanities and in the future of the digital humanities on the whole An Age of Accountability John L. Rury,2023-10-13 An Age of Accountability highlights the role of test based accountability as a policy framework in American education from 1970 to 2020 For more than half a century the quest to hold schools and educators accountable for academic achievement has relied almost exclusively on standardized assessment The theory of change embedded in almost all test based accountability programs held that assessment with stipulated consequences could lead to major improvements in schools This was accomplished politically by proclaiming lofty goals of attaining universal proficiency and closing achievement gaps which repeatedly failed to materialize But even after very clear disappointments no other policy framework has emerged to challenge its hegemony The American public today has little confidence in institutions to improve the quality of goods and services they provide especially in the public sector As a consequence many Americans continue to believe that accountability remains a vital necessity even if educators and policy scholars disagree IAUE Journal of Social Sciences ,2015 National Union Catalog ,1956 Includes entries for maps and atlases Notes on Earth Atmospheric Entry for Mars Sample Return Missions ,2006 The United States Army and Navy Journal and Gazette of the Regular and Volunteer Forces ,1921 Committee Meeting of Joint Committee on the Public Schools New Jersey.
