Le Guide Michelin Montreal:

Montréal: la cité des cités Juan-Luis Klein, Richard Shearmur, 2017-04-26 T00:00:00-04:00 Le présent ouvrage montre la diversité qui caractérise Montréal, diversité qui travers les années s'est transposée dans la morphologie même des quartiers. Des formes spécifiques de leadership et de gouvernance y chapeautent aujourd'hui des agencements géographiques par leur attachement au lieu. L'existence des quartiers et leur affichage public montrent les marques d'une ville hétérogène qui prend la forme d'une collection urbaine bigarrée sans être pour autant chaotique. Cette spécificité identitaire des quartiers constitue une des richesses de Montréal que ce livre cherche à créer et analyser. *Tourist Guide. Companies that manage rights of way are required to comply with these regulations and are seeking the most cost effective management practices that at the same time demonstrate stewardship of the environment. Protection of biodiversity and sustainable development are especially important as national goals in many countries and rights of way managers are seeking practical ways to include public participation in their operations. Addresses environmental issues in rights of way planning and management. Provides a forum for information exchange among various agencies, industries, environmental consultants and academic organizations. Presents peer reviewed papers to help achieve a better understanding of current environmental issues involved in rights of way management. Emotion in Motion Mike Robinson, David Picard, 2016-05-06 What happens when tourists scream with fear, shout with anger and frustration, weep with joy and delight or even faint in the face of revealed beauty? How can certain sites affect some tourists so deeply that they require hospitalisation and psychiatric treatment? What are the inner contours of tourist experience and how does it relate to specific emotional cultures? What are the consequences of the emotional cultures of tourists upon destinations? How are differences in emotional culture mobilized and played out in the transnational contact zones of international tourism? While many books have engaged with the structural frames of tourist practice and experience, this is the first to deal with the emotional dimensions of tourism travel and contact and the ways in which they can transform tourists' destinations and travel cultures through emotional engagements. The book brings together an international array of scholars from anthropology, psychiatry, history, cultural geography and critical tourism studies to explore how the movement to and through the realms of exotic people, wild nature, subliminal art, spirit worlds, metropolitan cities and sexualised others variably provoke emotions.
