Mediterranean Island Landscapes Ioannis N. Vogiatzakis, Gloria Pungetti, A.M. Mannion, 2008-02-26 Mediterranean islands exhibit many similarities in their biotic ecological physical and environmental characteristics There are also many differences in terms of their human colonization and current anthropogenic pressures This book addresses in three sections these characteristics and examines the major environmental changes that the islands experienced during the Quaternary period The first section provides details on natural and cultural factors which have shaped island landscapes It describes the environmental and cultural changes of the Holocene and their effects on biota as well as on the current human pressures that are now threats to the sustainability of the island communities The second section focuses on the landscapes of the largest islands namely Sicily Sardinia Corsica Cyprus Crete Malta and the Balearics Each island chapter includes a special topic reflecting a particular characteristic of the island Part three presents strategies for action towards sustainability in Mediterranean islands and concludes with a comparison between the largest islands Despite several published books on Mediterranean ecosystems landscapes there is no existing book dealing with Mediterranean islands in a collective manner Students researchers and university lecturers in environmental science geography biology and ecology will find this work invaluable as a cross disciplinary text while planners and politicians will welcome the succinct summaries as background material to planning decisions Landscapes Across the Mediterranean - Volume 2 Muhammad Nawaz Tunio, Helder I. Chaminé, Pir Mohammad, Davide Longato, Lucia Della Spina, 2026-01-31 This book presents a comprehensive exploration of the interplay between cultural heritage landscape and sustainable development in the Mediterranean region This book opens with a focus on Cultural Heritage Landscape and Identity examining the material and symbolic dimensions of historic environments The book also features rich case studies that highlight the relationship between natural and built heritage including the Posta Fibreno Lake the rock settlements of Monte San Giuliano and the cultural significance of sites like Capo Colonna and Gerace Also this book addresses Adaptive Reuse and Sustainable Development of Cultural Landscapes offering innovative strategies such as sustainable reuse of abandoned railways circular regeneration plans for rural villages and the balancing of natural preservation with urban and coastal development including Venice's response to rising sea levels In addition to this book delves into Nature Based Solutions and Environmental Regeneration showcasing tools for environmental offsetting green infrastructure integration climate resilience in Marzamemi and the spatial impacts of tourism in Puglia and the Adriatic In Technological Innovation Energy and Environmental Sustainability the book examines advanced methodologies ranging from fuzzy logic models for energy systems to wildfire risk management and urban heat mapping while also addressing accessibility and green mobility Structural Safety Material Innovation and Conservation Technologies follows highlighting digital tools in structural analysis AI powered crack detection and sustainable construction materials such as cactus based roof tiles Finally the book section on Sustainable Design Regeneration and Circular Economy Practices reflects on design and manufacturing synergy public space revitalization housing equity and resource management drawing lessons from both Mediterranean and international contexts Together these chapters of this book offer a rich multidisciplinary approach to heritage preservation and future oriented environmental and architectural practices

Adriano Sofo, 2011-10-10 Biodiversity is strongly affected by the rapid and accelerating changes in the global climate which largely stem from human activity Anthropogenic activities are causing highly influential impacts on species persistence The sustained environmental change wildlife is experiencing may surpass the capacity of developmental genetic and demographic mechanisms that populations have developed to deal with these alterations How biodiversity is perceived and maintained affects ecosystem functioning as well as how the goods and services that ecosystems provide to humans can be used

Recognizing biodiversity is essential to preserve wildlife Furthermore the measure management and protection of ecosystem biodiversity requires different and innovative approaches For all these reasons the aim of the present book is to give an up to date overview of the studies on biodiversity at all levels in order to better understand the dynamics and the mechanisms at the basis of the richness of life forms both in terrestrial including agro ecosystems and marine environments L'identità

From the Straits of Gibraltar to Sicily the European northern Mediterranean nations to the shores of North Africa the western Mediterranean is a unique cultural and sociopolitical entity which has had a singular role in shaping today's global society The Western Mediterranean and the World is the fascinating story of the rise of that peculiar world and of its evolution from the end of the Western Roman Empire to the present Uniquely rather than present the history of the region as a strict chronological progression the author takes a thematic approach telling his story through a series of vignettes case studies and original accounts so as to provide a more immediate sense of what life in and around the Mediterranean was like from the end of the Roman Empire in the West to the present immigration crisis now unfolding in Mediterranean waters Emphasizing the development of religion and language and the enduring synergies and struggles between Christian Jews and Muslims on both shores of the western sea Dr Ruiz connects the region to the larger world and locates the development of Mediterranean societies within a global context Describes the move from religious and linguistic unity under Roman rule to the fragmented cultural landscape of today Explores the relationship of language culture and geography focusing on the role of language formation and linguistic identity in the emergence of national communities Traces the movements of peoples across regions and their encounters with new geographical cultural and political realities Addresses the emergence of various political identities and how they developed into set patterns of political organization Emphasizes the theme of encounters as seen from Christian Muslim and Jewish perspectives While it is sure to become a definitive text for university courses on Mediterranean history The Western Mediterranean and the World will also have great appeal among scholars of the Mediterranean as well as general readers of history Part of The Blackwell History of the World Series The goal of this ambitious series is to provide an accessible source of knowledge about the entire human past for every curious person in every part of the world It will comprise some two dozen volumes of which some provide synoptic views of the history of particular regions while others consider the world as a whole during a particular period of time The volumes are narrative in form giving balanced attention to social and cultural history in the broadest sense as well as to institutional development and political change Each provides a systematic account of a very large subject but they are also both imaginative and interpretative The Series is intended to be accessible to the widest possible readership and the accessibility of its volumes is matched by the style of presentation and production
