South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull, Jonathan D. Jansen, 2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa's leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90/10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people's future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI

Law Mart Riaz Tejani, 2017-07-18 American law schools are in deep crisis Enrollment is down student loan debt is up and the profession's supply of high paying jobs is shrinking. Meanwhile thousands of graduates remain underemployed while the legal needs of low income communities go substantially unmet. Many blame overregulation and seek a free market to solve the problem but this has already been tested. Seizing on a deregulatory policy shift at the American Bar Association, private equity financiers established the first for-profit law schools in the early 2000s with the stated mission to increase access to justice by serving the underserved. Pursuing this mission at a feverish rate of growth they offered the promise of professional upward mobility through high tech simplified teaching and learning. In Law Mart a vivid ethnography of one such environment Riaz Tejani argues that the rise of for-profit law schools shows the limits of a market based solution to American access to justice. Building on theories in law, political economy and moral anthropology Tejani reveals how for-profit law schools marketed themselves directly to ethnoracial and socioeconomic minority communities, relaxed admission standards, increased diversity, shook up established curricula and saw student success rates plummet. They contributed to a dramatic rise in U.S. law student debt burdens while charging premium tuition financed up front through federal loans over time. If economic theories have so influenced legal scholarship, what happens when they come to shape law school transactions, governance and oversight? For students promised professional citizenship by these institutions, is there a need for protections that better uphold institutional quality and sustainability? Offering an unprecedented glimpse of this landscape Law Mart is a colorful foray into these essential questions.

Net Neutrality Compendium Luca Belli, Primavera De Filippi, 2015-11-10. The ways in which Internet traffic is managed have direct consequences on Internet users' rights as well as on their capability to compete on a level playing field. Network neutrality mandates to treat Internet traffic in a non-discriminatory fashion in order to maximise end users' freedom and safeguard an open Internet. This book is the result of a collective work aimed at providing deeper insight into what is network neutrality, how it relates to human rights and free competition and how to properly frame this key issue through sustainable policies and regulations. The Net Neutrality Compendium stems from three years of discussions nurtured by the members of the Dynamic Coalition on Network Neutrality (DCNN), an open and multi-stakeholder group established under the aegis of the United Nations Internet Governance Forum (IGF).

Handbook on Hybrid Organisations David Billis, Colin Rochester, 2020-02-28. Hybrid Organisations

Many different groundbreaking approaches to hybridity are contained in this Handbook which brings together a collection of empirical studies from an international body of scholars. The chapters analyse and theorise the position of hybrid organisations and have important implications for theory, practice and policy in a context of proliferating hybrid forms of organisation.

Production Management and Business Development Bohuslava Mihalčová, Petra Szaryszová, Lenka Štofová, Michal Pružinský, Barbora Gontkovičová, 2018-12-07. Trends in economic development rely on increasing human knowledge which stimulates the development of new sophisticated technologies. With their utilization, production is raised and the intent is to decrease natural resources consumption and protect and save our life environment as much as we can. At the same time, increasing pressure is observed both from competition and customers. The way to be competitive is by improving manufacturing and services offered to the customer. These are the major challenges of contemporary enterprises. Organizations are improving their activities and management processes. This is necessary to manage the seemingly intensifying competitive markets successfully. Enterprises apply business optimizing solutions to meet new challenges and conditions. This way ensuring effective development for long term competitiveness in a global environment. This is necessary for the implementation of qualitative changes in the industrial policy. Process Control and Production Management MTS 2018 is a collection of research papers from an international authorship. The authors present case studies and empirical research which illustrates the progressive trends in business process management and the drive to increase enterprise sustainability development.
