Bechtol Jr.,2018-09-07 North Korea has posed a threat to stability in Northeast Asia for decades Since Kim Jong un assumed power this threat has both increased and broadened Since 2011 the small isolated nation has detonated nuclear weapons multiple times tested a wide variety of ballistic missiles expanded naval and ground systems that threaten South Korea and routinely employs hostile rhetoric Another threat it poses has been less recognized North Korea presents a potentially greater risk to American interests by exporting its weapons systems to other volatile regions worldwide In North Korean Military Proliferation in the Middle East and Africa Bruce E Bechtol Jr analyzes relevant North Korean military capabilities what arms the nation provides and to whom how it skirts its sanctions and how North Korea s activities can best be contained He traces illicit networks that lead to state and nonstate actors in the Middle East including Syria Iran Hezbollah and Hamas and throughout Africa including at least a dozen nations The potential proliferation of nuclear and chemical weapons technology and the vehicles that carry it including ballistic missiles and artillery represent a broader threat than the leadership in Pyongyang Including training and infrastructure support North Korea s profits may range into the billions of dollars all concealed in illicit networks and front companies so complex that the nation struggles to track and control them Bechtol not only presents an accurate picture of the current North Korean threat he also outlines methodologies that Washington and the international community must embrace in order to contain it

Korea Economic Report ,2006 Summary of World Broadcasts ,1999 Near East Report ,2006 America's Space Sentinels Jeffrey Richelson,1999 During much of the Cold War America s first line of defense was in outer space a network of secret satellites that could provide instant warning of an enemy missile launch The presence of these infrared sensors orbiting 22 000 miles above the earth discouraged a Soviet first strike and stabilized international relations between the superpowers and they now play a crucial role in monitoring the missile programs of China India and other emerging nuclear powers Jeffrey Richelson has written the first comprehensive history of this vital program tracing its evolution from the late 1950s to the present He puts Defense Support Program operations in the context of world events from Russian missile programs to the Gulf War and explains how DSP s infrared sensors are used to detect meteorites monitor forest fires and even gather industrial intelligence by seeing the lights of steel mills A North Korean Missile Test ,2005 According to international intelligence reports for the last five weeks North Korea has been steadily moving towards a test launch of the Taepodong 2 an intercontinental ballistic missile ICBM with a range up to 6 000 kilometers enough to reach Alaska Satellite intelligence reveals that Pyongyang has loaded booster rockets onto a launch pad in Musuduan ri in the North Hamkyong Province of northeastern North Korea and moved fuel tanks in preparation for fueling This action is in violation of North Korea s international agreements and appears designed to goad the United States into direct bilateral talks The U S must not take the bait No good will come from rewarding North Korea for its belligerent behavior
