Michelle T. King

Mei M1 June 2013:

Culinary Nationalism in Asia Michelle T. King, 2019-07-11 With culinary nationalism defined as a process in flux as opposed to the limited concept of national cuisine the contributors of this book call for explicit critical comparisons of cases of culinary nationalism among Asian regions with the intention of recognizing patterns of modern culinary development As a result the formation of modern cuisine is revealed to be a process that takes place around the world in different forms and periods and not exclusive to current Eurocentric models Key themes include the historical legacies of imperialism colonialism nationalism the Cold War and global capitalism in Asian cuisines internal culinary boundaries between genders ethnicities social classes religious groups and perceived traditions modernities and global contexts of Asian cuisines as both nationalist and internationalist enterprises and Asia itself as a vibrant culinary imaginary The book which includes a foreword from Krishnendu Ray and an afterword from James L Watson sets out a fresh agenda for thinking about future food studies scholarship
