

The background of the entire image is a close-up of a brick wall. The bricks are arranged in a standard pattern and are colored with a rainbow gradient, transitioning from blue on the left, through green and yellow in the center, to red and purple on the right. A large, irregular white cutout in the center of the image reveals the map of Namibia. The map is white and shows the country's coastline and internal borders. The title text is overlaid on the map cutout.

Namibia S Rainbow Project Gay Rights In An African Nation:

Namibia's Rainbow Project Robert Lorway,2014-11-28 What are the consequences when international actors step in to protect LGBT people from discrimination with programs that treat their sexualities in isolation from the facts on the ground Robert Lorway tells the story of the unexpected effects of The Rainbow Project TRP a LGBT rights program for young Namibians begun in response to President Nujoma s notorious hate speeches against homosexuals Lorway highlights the unintended consequences of this program many of which ran counter to the goals of local and international policy makers and organizers He shows how TRP inadvertently diminished civil opportunities at the same time as it sought to empower youth to claim their place in Namibian culture and society Tracking the fortunes of TRP over several years Namibia s Rainbow Project poses questions about its effectiveness in the faces of class distinction and growing inequality It also speaks to ongoing problems for Western sexual minority rights programs in Africa in the midst of political violence heated debates over anti discrimination laws and government sanctioned anti homosexual rhetoric

Politicizing Sex in Contemporary Africa Ashley Currier,2019 This timely account of politicized homophobia contests portrayals of the African continent as hopelessly homophobic highlighting how elites deploy it

Home Is Where Your Politics Are Jessica A. Scott,2024-06-14 Home Is Where Your Politics Are is a transnational consideration of queer and trans activism in the US South and South Africa Through ethnographic exploration of queer and trans activist work in both places Jessica Scott paints a vibrant picture of what life is like in relation to a narrative that says that queer life is harder if not impossible in rural areas and on the African continent The book asks questions like what do activists in these places care about and how do stories about where they live get in the way of the life they envision for the queer and trans people for whom they advocate Answers to these questions provide insight that only these activists have into the complexity of locally based advocacy strategies in a globalized world
