Les Rohingya De Birmanie Arakanais Musulmans Et Apatrides:

Les Rohingya de Birmanie Gabriel Defert, 2007 La junte militaire qui dirige la Birmanie n'offre pas ses citoyens des conditions de vie idéales. Autoritaire et brutale, elle maintient en détention depuis de longues années le prix Nobel de la Paix Aung San Suu Kyi, pratique le travail forcé et ne répugne pas à la violence. Pourtant, il y aurait pire que d'être birman : ne pas l'être. Les Rohingyas, population musulmane du nord de la province birmane d'Arakan, situés à la frontière du Bangladesh, sont exclus de la liste officielle recensant les 135 minorités nationales et sont privés des droits les plus élémentaires. Leurs déplacements sont contrôlés, leurs terres confisquées, leur droit de fonder des familles discuté. Ils sont soumis à toutes sortes de brimades de la part de l'administration qui les méprise. Ce livre s'efforce de comprendre comment pareille exclusion a pu se produire, remontant aux racines de l'histoire de la région jusqu'à révéler la véritable réalité du présent.

Citizenship in Myanmar Ashley South, Marie Lall, 2017-12-13 Myanmar is going through a period of profound and contested transition. The country has experienced widespread if sometimes uneven reforms, including the start of a peace process between the government and Myanmar Army, and some two dozen ethnic armed organizations which had long been fighting for greater autonomy from the militarized and Burman-dominated state. This book brings together chapters by Burmese and foreign experts and contributions from community and political leaders who discuss the meaning of citizenship in Myanmar. Burma: The book explores citizenship in relation to three broad categories: issues of identity and conflict, debates around concepts and practices of citizenship, and inter- and intra-community issues, including Buddhist-Muslim relations. This is the first volume to address these issues, understanding and resolving which will be central to Myanmar's continued transition away from violence and authoritarianism.

The City and the Wilderness Arash Khazeni, 2020-11-17 The City and the Wilderness recounts the journeys and microhistories of Indo-Persian travelers across the Indian Ocean and their encounters with the Burmese Kingdom and its littoral at the turn of the nineteenth century. As Mughal sovereignty waned under British colonial rule, Indo-Persian travelers and intermediaries linked to the East India Company explored and surveyed the Burmese Empire, inscribing it as a forest landscape and Buddhist kingdom at the crossroads of South and Southeast Asia. Based on colonial Persian travel books and narratives in which Indo-Persian knowledge and perceptions of the wondrous edges of the Indian Ocean merged with Orientalist pursuits, The City and the Wilderness uncovers fading histories of inter-Asian crossings and exchanges at the ends of the Mughal world.

In the Shade of the Golden Palace Thibaut d'Hubert, 2018-03-01 In the Shade of the Golden Palace explores the work of the prolific Bengali poet Alaol (fl. 1651-71) who translated five narrative poems and one versified treatise from medieval Hindi and Persian into Bengali. The book maps the genres, structures, and themes of Alaol's works, paying special attention to his discourse on poetics and his literary genealogy, which included Sanskrit, Avadhi, Maithili, Persian, and Bengali authors. D'Hubert focuses on courtly speech in Alaol's poetry, his revisiting of classical categories in a vernacular context, and the prominent role of performing arts in his conceptualization of the poetics.

of the written word The foregrounding of this audacious theory of meaning in Alaol's poetry is a crucial contribution of the book both in terms of general conceptual analysis and for its significance in the history of Bengali poetry This book shows how multilingual literacy fostered a variety of literary experiments in the remote kingdom of Arakan which lay between present day southeastern Bangladesh and Myanmar in the mid 17th century D Hubert also presents a detailed analysis of Middle Bengali narrative poems as well as translations of Old Maithili Brajabuli and Middle Bengali lyric poems that illustrate the major poetic styles in the regional courts of eastern South Asia In the Shade of the Golden Palace therefore fulfills three functions it is a unique guide for readers of Middle Bengali poetry a detailed study of the cultural history of the frontier region of Arakan and an original contribution to the poetics of South Asian literatures Eastern Indian Ocean

Lipi Ghosh, 2011-05-25 The Indian Ocean has attracted scholarly attention through ages As we talk of inter Asian linkages and inter regional arena studies the connections through the Bay of Bengal Eastern Indian Ocean is a fascinating subject This book is an attempt to understand how these issues of commercial and cultural linkages manifest along the Eastern Indian Ocean from the past to the present It aims to look at the various dimensions of the contemporary Eastern Indian Ocean and seeks to determine whether the past has any role to play in shaping contemporary contexts The discussions in the book will show how the revival of an ancient linkage can stimulate contemporary international trade and can promote regional cooperation The findings of the book will definitely lay the foundations for future analyses of the emerging India South East Asia relationship It is expected to be a pioneering attempt for a comprehensive and multidisciplinary examination of the region under review Atlas des minorités musulmanes en Asie méridionale et orientale Michel Gilquin, 2010 En Asie minorités ethniques et cherchent à intégrer la communauté musulmane des Rohingyas devenu le bouc émissaire. Ces pratiques de violence de la part des militaires ont elles pour objectif la désintégration de l'Union de Myanmar. The Rohingya Nasir Uddin, 2020-08-15. The Rohingyas are one of the most persecuted ethnic minorities in the world. They used to live in the Arakan Rakhine State of Burma, Myanmar for centuries though it is a predominantly Buddhist country. Being victims of persecution as a result of ethnic cleansing and genocide, they started migrating to neighbouring countries from 1978 and after the massive migration August 2017 onwards about 1.3 million Rohingyas now live in the south eastern part of Bangladesh. This book offers a comprehensive portrait of how the state becomes instrumental in producing stateless people wherein both Myanmar and Bangladesh alienate the Rohingyas as illegal migrants and they have to face unemployment, mental and sexual abuse and deprivation of basic human necessities. The Rohingya proposes a new framework and theoretical alternative called subhuman life for understanding the extreme vulnerability of the people as well as the genocide, ethnocide and domicide taking place in the region. With several concrete ethnographic evidences, Nasir Uddin apart from reconstructing the Rohingyas regional history sheds light on possible solutions to their refugee crisis and examines the regional political dynamics, South and Southeast Asian geopolitics and bilateral and multilateral interstate relations.
