Midnight In Europe English Edition:

The Language of Comparative Constitutional Law Erika Arban, Maartje De Visser, Jeong-In Yun, 2025-10-02 This volume is the first in depth collection to explore the impact of language on the field of comparative constitutional law It addresses the epistemological and conceptual implications of English as the lingua franca In this regard it considers the global influence of Anglophone jurisdictions in orienting the discourse through the identification of concepts designs and ideas that warrant engagement and exploration outside of those origin jurisdictions In doing so the book underscores that language is not a neutral device but can produce hegemonic pressures and expectations It further makes the role of language in conducting comparative constitutional law explicit so that its users can be more deliberate in their selection of foreign materials and are made conscious of the limitations of their findings due to language barriers The book calls for a reckoning with the rich constitutional vocabulary that non Anglophone jurisdictions have to offer to ensure a more holistic approach to the creation of knowledge It also emphasises the need for the contextualised study of constitutional phenomena to appreciate how these are shaped by linguistic choices In addition to raising awareness about language s significance as an epistemological conceptual and methodological device the volume also puts forward constructive tools and techniques to harness language s potential making it an indispensable resource for scholars students lawmakers and judges

Revenge Drama in European Renaissance and Japanese Theatre K. Wetmore, 2008-04-14 Revenge Drama in European Renaissance and Japanese Theatre is a collection of essays that both explores the tradition of revenge drama in Japan and compares that tradition with that in European Renaissance drama Why are the two great plays of each tradition plays regarded as defining their nations and eras Kanadehon Chushingura and Hamlet both revenge plays What do the revenge dramas of Europe and Japan tell us about the periods that produced them and how have they been modernized to speak to contemporary audiences By interrogating the manifestation of evil women ghosts satire parody and censorship contributors such as Leonard Pronko J Thomas Rimer Carol Sorgenfrei Laurence Kominz explore these issues

Edward and George Herbert in the European Republic of Letters Greg Miller, Anne-Marie Miller-Blaise, 2022-08-09 George Herbert 1593 1633 the celebrated devotional poet and his brother Lord Herbert of Cherbury 1583 1648 often described as the father of English deism are rarely considered together This collection explores connections between the full range of the brothers writings and activities despite the apparent differences both in what they wrote and in how they lived their lives More specifically the volume demonstrates that despite these differences each conceived of their extended republic of letters as militating against a violent and exclusive catholicity theirs was a communion in which contention or disputation served to develop more dynamic forms of comprehensiveness The literary philosophical and musical production of the Herbert brothers appears here in its full European context connected as they were with the Sidney clan and its investment in international Protestantism The disciplinary boundaries between poetry philosophy politics and theology in modern universities are a stark contrast to the deep interconnectedness of these pursuits in the seventeenth century Crossing disciplinary and territorial borders contributors discuss a variety of texts and media including poetry musical practices autobiography letters council literature orations philosophy history and nascent religious anthropology all serving as agents of the circulation and construction of transregionally inspired and collective responses to human conflict and violence We see as never before the profound connections face to face as well as textual linking early modern British literary culture with the continent *Catalogue.
