

HOLLOW MAN

L'HOMME SANS OMBRE

A movie poster for the film 'Hollow Man'. The background is a deep blue with a wavy, liquid-like texture. In the foreground, the faces of a man and a woman are shown in profile, looking towards the right. The man's face is slightly more prominent and in focus than the woman's. Below their faces, there is a faint, translucent image of a man in a suit, possibly the same man, looking down. The overall mood is mysterious and suspenseful.

Key works of popular fiction are often rewritten to capitalize on their success. But what are the implications of this rewriting process? Such is the question addressed by this detailed study of several rewritings of Eugène Sue's Mystères de Paris 1842-43 produced in the latter half of the nineteenth century in response to the phenomenal success of Sue's archetypal urban mystery. Pursuing a compelling analogy between city and text and exploring the resonance of the palimpsest trope to both, Amy Wigelsworth argues that the mystères urbains are exemplary rewritings which shed new light on contemporary reading and writing practices and emerge as early avatars of a genre still widely consumed and enjoyed in the 21st century.
