

Personal Narrative on a Graduation Event

Our high school graduation event remains one of the most important events in my life. The graduation was not just an event but also a transition towards the achievement of my goals and objectives, both in education and career. Besides, the graduation was an indication that I was ready to take the next step towards the achievements of my goals and objectives. The event was not only crucial for me but also for other students who managed to make the list of the final graduating students. Like a majority of other graduation events in our school, this one created a feeling of belonging, a sense of accomplishment, and a transition towards maturity. Besides, our graduation meant more than a ceremony to a majority of the students. Such an event meant changes to our lives, a time to grow up into adults, more responsibilities, moving away from our parents, and a time to realize our dreams, in both education and careers. We have put too much effort over the years to reach this point, to make the list of the graduating students, and get opportunities to join campus, which remains the most critical times of our lives. Personally, this remains to be the happiest day of my life.

The school had focused on ensuring that the event was a success, mainly based on the increased number of students from the previous year. The administration had set aside the school grounds as the most convenient location for the event. Besides, more resources and workforce had been provided on time and partnerships made with local authorities, which was essential in making sure that everything was ready for the students to transition from high school to tertiary institutions, especially colleges and universities. In the morning hours of Friday, the organizers were finishing the final touches to ensure that the facilities, equipment, and other necessities were operational. Besides, the contributions of the local organizers, students, and other stakeholders made this event a success. Just like the majority of other students, I had waited for such an event for four years. A feeling of anxiety was overwhelming. Families for a majority of the students, including my parents and siblings, had arrived to witness such an occasion.
