Gaussian Laser Beams John Ernst Bjorkholm, Stanford University. Microwave Laboratory, 1966 The twofold purpose of this study was 1 To analyze optical second harmonic generation SHG in the focus of the lowest order transverse mode of a cw gas laser beam 2 to utilize the power enhancement available from focusing to measure smaller nonlinearities on a cw basis than previously had been done The results of the analysis give the dependence of SHG in index matching crystals upon the crystal length the crystal double refraction angle and the laser beam focal spot size w_0 The dependence of SHG upon w_0 was measured using varying degrees of focusing The absolute power levels were checked by measuring the absolute value of the nonlinearity in ADP The excellent agreement between analysis and experiment means that focused beams can be used to make accurate measurements of crystal nonlinearities The second section of this study describes measurements of several optical nonlinearities in calcite made under conditions of optimum focusing using cw gas lasers Since calcite has a center of inversion the nonlinearities measured are of higher order than normal dipolar SHG the resulting effects are much weaker requiring the use of focused beams to detect them Measurements were made of quadrupole type SHG electric field induced SHG and the Quadratic electro optic effect Author Biomechanics David Bootzin, 2012-12-06 The two day symposium held on the campus of Augustana College Ruck Island Illinois April 5 and 6 1967 explored the interrelationship between the life sciences and engineering and attempted to make the scientific community more aware of an interdisciplinary approach to engineering The symposium sought to stimulate new mechanical engineering concepts perhaps not possible utilizing data available only through ideas derived from the traditional physical sciences Devoted to closed loop biomechanical systems in which biological forces and feedback influence mechanical physical and chemical systems this first Ruck Island Arsenal Biomechanics Symposium was cosponsored by Ruck Island Arsenal U S Army Weapons Command U S Army Research Office Durham and Augustana College It strived for academic excellence and the sponsors are indebted to the Advisory Committee in providing the guidance and participation required to achieve this objective as reflected in these proceedings Personal thanks are extended to Drs Russ C Bean George Bugliarellu Robert G Gesteland Warren S McCullough Lawrence M Patrick Ali Seirig and Heinz Von Fuerster The planning committee which included Prof John E Ekblad Edwin M Vaughan Alan G Galbavy and the editors are also to be commended for their efforts in arranging this successful symposium Popular Photography - ND, 1948-10 Laser Focus, 1970 Optical Second Harmonic Generation Using a Focused Gaussian Laser Beam Stanford University.
