Religion, colonisation et décolonisation au Congo, 1885-1960* Vincent Viaene,Bram Cleys,Jan De Maeyer,2020-10-30 Religion in today s Democratic Republic of Congo has many faces from the overflowing seminaries and Marian shrines of the Catholic Church to the Islamic brotherhoods from the healers of Kimban guism to the televangelism of the booming Pentecostalist churches in the great cities from the Orthodox communities of Kasai to the invisible Mai Mai warriors in the brousse of Kivu During the colonial period religion was no less central to people s lives than it is today More surprisingly behind the seemingly smooth facade of missions linked closely to imperial power faith and worship were already marked by diversity and dynamism tying the Congo into broader African and global movements The contributions in this book provide insight into the multifaceted history of the interaction between religion and colonization The authors outline the institutional political framework and focus on the challenge that old and new forms of slavery entailed for the missions The atrocities committed at the time of the Congo Free State became an existential question for young Christian communities In the Belgian Congo after 1908 more structural forms of colonial violence remained a key issue marking religious experiences And yet religion also acted as a bridge The authors emphasize the role intermediaries such as catechists or medical assistants played in the African appropriation of Christianity They examine the complex interaction with indigenous religious beliefs and practices and zoom in on the part religions played in the independence movement as well as on their reaction to independence itself Coming at a moment when Belgium confronts its colonial past this volume provides a timely reassessment of religion as a key factor      The Objects of Life in Central Africa ,2013-09-15 In The Objects of Life in Central Africa the history of consumption and social change from 1840 until 1980 is explored By taking consumption as a vantage point the contributions deviate from and add to previous works which have mainly analysed issues of production from an economic and political perspective The chapters are broad ranging in temporal and geographical focus including contributions on Congo Zambia Zimbabwe and Angola Topics range from the social history of firearms to the perception of the railway and include contributions on sewing machines traders and advertising By looking at the socio economic political and cultural meaning and impact of goods the history of Central Africa is reassessed      The Politics of Housing in (Post-)Colonial Africa Kirsten Rüther,Martina Barker-Ciganikova,Daniela Waldburger,Carl-Philipp Bodenstein,2020-06-08 Housing matters no matter when or where This volume of collected essays on housing in colonial and postcolonial Africa seeks to elaborate the how and the why Housing is much more than a living everyday practice It unfolds in its disparate dimensions of time space and agency Context dependent it acquires diverse often ambivalent meanings Housing can be a promise an unfulfilled dream a tool of self and class assertion a negotiation process or a means to achieve other ends Our focus lies in analyzing housing in its multifacetedness be it a lens to offer insights into complex processes that shape societies be it a tool of empire to exercise control over private relations of inhabitants or be it a means to create good obedient and productive citizens Contributions to this volume range from the field of history to architecture and urban planning African Studies linguistics and literature The individual case studies home in on specific aspects and dimensions of housing and seek to bring them into dialogue with each other By doing so the volume aims to add to the vibrant academic debate on studying urban practices and their significance for current social change Sick Architecture Beatriz

Colomina, 2025-10-21 A thought provoking essay collection about how architecture and sickness are surprisingly interwoven from Ancient Greece to present day New York City Illnesses wellness and architecture are inseparable Medical professionals and architects have always been in a kind of dance often influencing one another though the dance is not always synchronized Drawing from a wide range of historical and contemporary case studies from ancient Greece to twentieth century India to present day New York City Sick Architecture highlights a topic that has shaped our lives from the very beginnings of architecture to the outbreak of the Covid 19 pandemic and beyond Sick Architecture goes beyond the sicknesses recognized by the medical profession to ask What aspects of society may be ill in need of care or subject to pathologization Similarly the book goes beyond physical buildings and cities to interrogate architecture s policy protocols and spatial logics Its thirty five diverse essays explore moments in global history when shifting notions of health became vectors for the development of architectural practice and discourse as well as the reverse when architecture acted as a reservoir and vector for illness Suturing the City Filip De Boeck, Sammy Baloji, 2025-03-17

Focusing upon the urban now a moment suspended between lingering precolonial references the broken dreams of a colonial past and the not yet realised promises of neoliberal futures this book provides an ethnographic and photographic investigation of the complex meanings of living and living together in Congo s urban worlds today The authors anthropologist Filip De Boeck and photographer Sammy Baloji take the reader on a tour of specific urban sites in Kinshasa and beyond In their detailed analysis these sites emerge as suturing points in which the possibilities of collective urban action and dreams of a shared future continue to be explored
