

The purpose of this document is to provide a comprehensive overview of the project's objectives, scope, and deliverables. It serves as a reference for all stakeholders involved in the project, ensuring that everyone is aligned on the goals and expectations.

2. Project Objectives

2.1. Goals

2.1.1. Goal 1

The first goal of the project is to develop a robust and scalable system architecture that can handle the expected load and provide high availability. This involves selecting the appropriate technologies, designing the database schema, and implementing the necessary security measures.

3. Project Scope

The project scope is defined by the specific features and functionalities that will be developed. It includes the initial requirements gathering phase, where the needs of the stakeholders are identified and documented.

The project will also cover the testing and deployment phases, ensuring that the final product meets the quality standards and is ready for production use.

The system architecture is designed to be modular and scalable, allowing for easy integration of new features and the ability to handle increasing data volumes and user loads.

The architecture is based on a microservices approach, where the system is composed of small, independent services that communicate with each other through well-defined APIs.

Component	Technology Stack	Responsibilities
Frontend	React.js	User interface and client-side logic
Backend	Node.js / Express.js	Server-side logic and API endpoints
Database	PostgreSQL	Data storage and management
Cache	Redis	Session management and data caching

The system is designed to be highly available and fault-tolerant, with multiple redundant components and a disaster recovery plan in place.

3. Data Flow Diagram

4. Implementation Details

The implementation details describe the specific steps and tasks required to build the system. This includes the development of the frontend, backend, and database components, as well as the integration and testing phases.

The project will be managed using agile practices, with regular sprints and daily standups to ensure progress and address any issues promptly.
