Equality in Kenya's 2010 Constitution Victoria Miyandazi, 2021-02-25 This book makes a significant contribution to the ongoing global conversations on the various understandings of equality. It illuminates the many ways in which diverse equality guarantees clash or are interrelated. It also sets out principled approaches on how they can be coherently interpreted to address the myriad inequalities in Kenya. Taking a comparative approach, the book considers how other jurisdictions including the United States, United Kingdom, Canada, South Africa, India, and Botswana have approached the conceptualisation, interpretation, and application of various equality concepts. The book focuses on important issues such as transformative constitutionalism in relation to the interpretation of Kenya's 2010 Constitution, expanding the list of enumerated grounds for non-discrimination, affirmative action, accommodating religious and cultural diversity versus gender equality, the interrelation between socio-economic rights and status-based equality. Advancing Africa's Sustainable Development Alain L. Fymat, 2018-11-14 While many African countries lag behind the rest of the industrialised world in scientific and medical research and development, the situation is progressively improving. This is why the Society for the Advancement of Science in Africa was established to contribute to economic advancement and sustainability through science, research, education, and innovation. This book provides a selection of papers from the Advancement of Science in Africa's fourth annual conference. The conference was held under the overarching theme of science, technology, and innovation in Africa, with several important sub-themes including, but not limited to, improving health research and disease surveillance, education, collaborating in research, responding to epidemic diseases with high mortality in Africa, and promoting women's interest in science careers. The collection illustrates how, although the chapter contributors come from various countries and universities representing their own academic research, they all share a common interest in advancing science, technology, and innovation in Africa. The Oxford Handbook of Kenyan Politics Nic Cheeseman, Karuti Kanyinga, Gabrielle Lynch, 2020-02-14 Kenya is one of the most politically dynamic and influential countries in sub-Saharan Africa. Today, it is known in equal measure as a country that has experienced great highs and tragic lows. In the 1960s and 1970s, Kenya was seen as a success story of development in the periphery and also led the way in terms of democratic breakthroughs in 2010 when a new constitution devolved power and placed new constraints on the president. However, the country has also made international headlines for the kind of political instability that occurs when electoral violence is expressed along ethnic lines, such as during the Kenya crisis of 2007-08 when over 1,000 people lost their lives and almost 700,000 were displaced. The Oxford Handbook of Kenyan Politics explains these developments and many more, drawing together 50 specially commissioned chapters by leading researchers. The chapters they have contributed address a range of essential topics, including the legacy of colonial rule, ethnicity, land, politics, devolution, the constitution, elections, democracy, foreign aid, the informal economy, civil society, human rights, the International Criminal Court, the growing influence of China, economic policy.

electoral violence and the impact of mobile phone technology In addition to covering some of the most important debates about Kenyan politics the volume provides an insightful overview of Kenyan history from 1930 to the present day and features a set of chapters that review the impact of devolution on regional politics in every part of the country Higher Education and SDG4 Tawana Kupe,2024-12-02 Calling for intentional inclusive and above all immediate action this collection cuts through the dynamic education landscape to highlight its material contribution and actions needed to achieve Quality Education Estimates of Recurrent Expenditure of the Government of Kenya for the Year Ending ... Kenya,2015 Eyes and Spies Tanya Lloyd Kyi,2018-03-27 Who is watching you and why Written for middle grade and older readers Eyes and Spies looks at the way information and data about us is collected and used by individuals governments companies and organizations Each chapter covers one aspect of the subject from data collection to computer surveillance to personal privacy Arguments for both increased security and increased privacy are offered which encourages readers to think critically about issues and decide for themselves The book asks three simple questions Who s watching and why Where is the line between public and private How can you keep your secrets to yourself Creepy Line sidebars highlight controversial real life scenarios and ask readers where they would set their own boundaries Action Alerts encourage readers to find out more about how surveillance cyberbullying and cyber safety Colour illustrations and a dynamic design make this an enlightening and engaging read Achieving Universal Primary Education in Kenya by 2015--where the Reality Lies Okwach Abagi,Jacqueline Olweya,1999 Histories of Dirt Stephanie Newell,2019-12-20 In Histories of Dirt Stephanie Newell traces the ways in which urban spaces and urban dwellers come to be regarded as dirty as exemplified in colonial and postcolonial Lagos Newell conceives dirt as an interpretive category that facilitates moral sanitary economic and aesthetic evaluations of other cultures under the rubric of uncleanness She examines a number of texts ranging from newspaper articles by elite Lagosians to colonial travel writing public health films and urban planning to show how understandings of dirt came to structure colonial governance Seeing Lagosians as sources of contagion and dirt British colonizers used racist ideologies and discourses of dirt to justify racial segregation and public health policies Newell also explores possibilities for non Eurocentric methods for identifying African urbanites own values and opinions by foregrounding the voices of contemporary Lagosians through interviews and focus groups in which their responses to public health issues reflect local aesthetic tastes and values In excavating the shifting role of dirt in structuring social and political life in Lagos Newell provides new understandings of colonial and postcolonial urban history in West Africa National Action Plan on Education for All, 2003-2015 Kenya,2003 2015 Situation Report on International Migration ,2015 The study aims to address a deficit in knowledge about migration issues in the Middle East and North Africa by providing a multidisciplinary and comprehensive overview of migration trends and its economic and social consequences in the Arab region Within the report three key trends are discussed a regular and irregular migration b forced migration and c mixed migration flows publisher s website      What Is the Role for Effective Pedagogy In Contemporary Higher Education? Carl Senior,Dilly Fung,Christopher Howard, Rowena Senior,2018-10-05 The number of students entering into Higher Education HE continues to grow and as such the sector now stands at the threshold of a major shift in its philosophy No longer does the academic prerogative belong to a generation who valued learning for the sake of enlightenment Many contemporary undergraduate students enter their programmes of study with a primary desire to improve their position on the subsequent employability market Universities have been quick to meet this need and institutional offerings have followed suit enabling students to gain experience in a range of additional and subsidiary programmes that focus on the provision of value added benefits Here students are encouraged to develop expertise in a range of topics from entrepreneurship and enterprise to intellectual property and even leadership skills The first round of casualties that fall victim to such a shift are those programmes of study embedded within the humanities As is evidenced by the falling numbers of enrolling students the incoming cohort is less likely now to engage with such programmes while participation in programmes that have a clear employability component has never been so high To ensure that the HE sector continues to enable graduates to become effective citizens who contribute to the betterment of society a range of general questions need to be addressed What does it mean to be an authentic university in the modern era What are the real student expectations of HE and how are education providers framing and meeting these expectations Is a new breed of academic leadership needed that will both meet the expectations of the students and guide the aspirations of academic staff Finally do we need an opportunity to reflect on the effective design and delivery of curriculum Should the undergraduate student body play more of a role in the design of the curriculum or should the undergraduate student body play more of a role in the design of the curriculum or should they remain the recipients of a programme that has been designed by subject specialists The scope of this book is wide but it brings the design and delivery of higher education programmes under the empirical gaze of educational psychology That is to say all chapters centre on the impact of higher educational programmes on the student teacher relationship student learning achievement and identity It is therefore crucial to explore the psychological impact of higher education institutions and how these can then be used to inform innovative educational practice and policy      Yearbook of International Organizations
