Musée Du Louvre Musée du Louvre, The Louvre Museum Musée du Louvre, Paul Vitry, 1922 Louvre Musée du Louvre (Paris), 1997 Evangelia und Episteln auf alle Sonn, 1865 The Louvre, 7 Faces of a Museum Musée du Louvre, 1987 The Louvre, 1983 The Louvre Alexandra Bonfante-Warren, Musée du Louvre, 2000 The Musée du Louvre that is the museum that inhabits the Louvre Palace is the world's largest museum and also one of the world's most exciting places. Its buildings offer a journey through time while its galleries display works from over eight centuries that arouse the full range of human responses from admiration and wonder to curiosity, lust, even anger and betrayal. The Louvre complete with photos and historical drawings of the architectural development of the fortress turned palace turned museum and 300 magnificent color plates of works in the collection delivers an engaging and informed account of the history that helped form this spectacular collection. Indeed it is the history of the French nation itself a story of kings and castles, excess and poverty, empires and revolutions, love and war that gave birth to the Louvre and the subsequent embracing of modernization coupled with a legitimate respect for the past that is the Grand Louvre today. Dubbed the museum of the people in 1848 the Louvre today houses arguably the most comprehensive collection of art and antiquities in the world. Alexandra Bonfante-Warren has chosen some of the most beautiful, awe-inspiring and thought-provoking examples from each of the museum's seven departments: Egyptian Antiquities, Oriental Antiquities, Greek and Roman Antiquities, Decorative Arts, Sculpture, Paintings and Drawings. Here are tomb paintings and sarcophagi from the Valley of the Kings, towering mythic sculptures from lost civilizations, devotional altarpieces and architectural embellishments expressing the religious fervor of the Middle Ages and masterpieces by Giotto, Raphael, Leonardo, Rembrandt, Rubens, Delacroix, David, Vermeer, Ingres, Bosch and scores of others. Turn the pages of this book and tour the halls and galleries of an ancient palace steeped equally in history and human emotion where hang some of the greatest artworks ever created. The Louvre is a testament to the enduring power of great art, great minds and great vision from dust jacket Louvre Musée du Louvre (Paris), 2007 Treasures of the Louvre Musée du Louvre, 1994. This large format edition of Abbeville's popular Tiny Folio highlights masterpieces as chosen by the director of the world's most famous museum. Two hundred years ago the doors of the Louvre opened to the public for the very first time. The palace of the French kings had been transformed into a museum that today stretches over an enormous architectural ensemble right in the heart of Paris. The royal collections first assembled by Francis I in the sixteenth century were later transferred to the Louvre palace and this prestigious core was further enriched with artistic treasures during the Revolutionary period. The collections have been growing ever since and are today divided into seven departments: Oriental Antiquities, Egyptian Antiquities and Greek, Etruscan and Roman Antiquities illustrate the art and culture of the ancient Near and Middle East and the Mediterranean countries. The other four so-called modern departments: painting, sculpture, decorative arts and drawing span Western art from the height of the Middle Ages to the mid-nineteenth century. With superb
