Kunkel,2012-12-06 The first symposium in this series was held at the Royal College of Surgeons of England in December 1988 and was entitled Novel Neutrophil Stimulating Peptides That symposium successfully brought together the majority of laboratories working in the area of interleukin 8 and related peptides see Immunology Today 10 146 147 1989 The Second International Symposium on Chemotactic Cytokines was held at the same venue in June 1990 and a much increased attendance reflected the accelerating pace of work in the area of these chemotactic cytokines The proceedings of that meeting were published in Advances in Experimental Medicine and Biology vol 305 1991 The rapid advances made in the field of chemotactic cytokines over the last 18 months necessitated a third Symposium in this series to collate and place in perspective an explosion of new data The Third International Symposium on Chemotactic Cytokines was held between August 31 and September 1 1992 in Baden bei Wien Austria However the lack of a clear nomenclature system was creating some confusion in the area especially as new factors continue to be discovered and classified as family members In the past these inflammatory mediators had been placed arbitrarily under the broad heading of intercrines or chemotactic cytokines with no clear classification guidelines to follow This nomenclature issue was addressed at the Symposium where investigators in the field were invited to reach a consensus regarding a collective name for these mediators The resulting decision was to identify the major family as chemokines to replace all previous terms namely timekeeping by the sun and stars and the regulation of the astronomically defined times of Muslim prayer The study is based on over 500 medieval astronomical manuscripts first identified by the author now preserved in libraries all over the world and originally from the entire Islamic world from the Maghrib to Central Asia and the Yemen The materials presented provide new insights into the early development of the prayer ritual in Islam They also call into question the popular notion that religion could not inspire serious scientific activity Only one of the hundreds of astronomical tables discussed here was known in medieval Europe which is one reason why the entire corpus has remained unknown until the present A second volume also to be published by Brill deals with astronomical instruments for timekeeping and other computing devices
