

N. Gregory Mankiw – Principles of Economics

Chapter 17. MONOPOLISTIC COMPETITION

Solutions to Problems and Applications

 - a. The market for #2 pencils is perfectly competitive since pencils by any manufacturer are identical and there are a large number of manufacturers.
 - b. The market for bottled water is monopolistically competitive because of consumers' concerns about quality. As a result, each producer has a slightly different product.
 - c. The market for copper is perfectly competitive, since all copper is identical and there are a large number of producers.
 - d. The market for local telephone service is monopolistic because it is a natural monopoly—it is cheaper for one firm to supply all the output.
 - e. The market for peanut butter is monopolistically competitive because different brand names exist with different quality characteristics.
 - f. The market for lipstick is monopolistically competitive because lipstick from different firms differs slightly, but there are a large number of firms who can enter or exit without restriction.
2. A monopolistic firm produces a product for which there are no close substitutes, but a monopolistically competitive firm produces a product that is only somewhat different from substitute goods. So the goods differ in terms of the degree to which substitutes exist.
3. Monopolistically competitive firms don't increase the quantity they produce to lower the average cost of production because doing so would require them to lower their price. The loss in revenue from the lower price outweighs the benefits of the lower cost of production.
 - a. Figure 4 illustrates the market for Sparkle toothpaste in long-run equilibrium. The profit-maximizing level of output is Q_1 and the price is P_1 .
