

LES GUERRES CIVILES À ROME / V

Texte introduit, traduit et commenté par Philippe Torrens

Les triumvirs l'ont emporté sur les républicains à Philippes, mais les guerres civiles ont encore cinq belles années devant elles. Désormais, Antoine et Octavien doivent tenir les promesses faites aux soldats : Antoine se charge de l'argent en pressurant les provinces d'Orient ; pour les terres en Italie, Octavien exproprie leurs occupants, et tout le pays entre en ébullition. Lucius, consul, et aussi frère d'Antoine, tente alors de rétablir la République, mais l'entreprise se termine vite par sa défaite à Pérouse. Une autre menace vient de Sextus Pompée qui contrôle toujours la Sicile et le trafic maritime : Rome est affamée. Quand Antoine, soucieux, quitte les bras de Cléopâtre pour retrouver l'Italie, ses officiers et ceux d'Octavien ont bien du mal à enrayer la guerre qui commence entre eux...

Ainsi s'ouvre le cinquième livre des Guerres civiles, livre des rebondissements, où discordes, réconciliations, défections, accords vite transgressés, émeutes, tempêtes et mutineries ponctuent la période confuse où la République achève sa longue agonie. Appien arrête son récit à la mort de Sextus Pompée, considérant qu'avec lui la République, elle aussi, est bien morte ; l'historien réserve pour son Livre égyptien (qui ne nous est pas parvenu) la lutte finale entre Antoine et Octavien, une histoire d'une autre nature, celle de l'affrontement entre deux prétendants à la monarchie.

Philippe Torrens est professeur agrégé des lettres et docteur en histoire ancienne. Spécialiste d'Appien, il a travaillé à la publication des quatre premiers livres des Guerres civiles dans « La Roue à Livres ».

Les Guerres Civiles:

Les guerres civiles Jean-Pierre Derriennic, 2001 Les guerres civiles ont lieu dans des sociétés polarisées autour d'un conflit dominant où la mobilité des individus entre les groupes en conflit est faible Leur probabilité dépend de facteurs démographiques économiques culturels et institutionnels Les guerres civiles partisans sont contagieuses et se terminent par des réconciliations complètes , New Perspectives on the Roman Civil Wars of 49-30 BCE Richard Westall, Hannah Cornwell, 2024-01-25 Offering new and original approaches to the Roman civil wars of 49-30 BCE the eleven papers presented here for the first time shed light on this crucial moment in the forging of Roman identity They engage with a variety of problems and topics in political discourse diplomacy the concept of libertas divine paternity socio economic structures allied rulers military officials civil war finances Agrippa's family material culture the coinage of Julius Caesar the physical remains of Corfinium and literary commemoration Sallust on trauma the lost Histories of Asinius Pollio The case studies presented here contribute to our understanding of a period that is just as fundamental for our view of the Romans as it was to the Romans themselves Arguing for the unity of the period in question the volume deploys a multiplicity of methodologies to analyse how the trauma of armed conflict and the breakdown of accepted socio cultural models not only mediated the contemporary experience of Roman civil war but also left a lasting impression upon how Romans viewed the world Incisive and critical these contributions by a diverse team of international researchers both emerging scholars and leaders in their fields offer a new window into the world of the late Republic and early Principate Recueil Des Cours, Collected Courses 1938 Académie De Droit International De La Haye, Hague Academy of International Law, 1968-12-01 The International Legal System in Quest of Equity and Universality Laurence Boisson de Chazournes, Vera Gowlland-Debbas, 2021-10-18 Georges Abi Saab began his writing and teaching at a time when the process of decolonization and thereafter the quest for emancipation began to make its far reaching impact on the international scene producing significant changes in the international environment both quantitatively in increasing the number of nation States and qualitatively in changing patterns of interests and claims This was bound to result in new pressures on the international legal system itself and in a questioning of the traditional Eurocentric content of international law In his work and teaching Professor Abi Saab viewed the dynamics of international law as a function of two driving forces the emergence of the third world and the sense of injustice In his view the first driving force the emergence of the third world raised the problem of exclusion exclusion from participation in the elaboration of international law and the decision making process and exclusion as beneficiaries of the resulting rules of international law At the same time this new force introduced diversity into the international scene reflecting the richness of the international community in its different facets This process remains relevant today reflecting the contemporary problem of exclusion of new actors as well as their quest for participation The second driving force the sense of injustice posed a teleological problem for him that of defining community values in order that they capture the different facets of justice whether formal or distributive So long as there is no effective organic structure international law in his view will continue to remain effectiveness oriented reflecting rather than impacting on the structures of power Nevertheless it is undeniable that there is an on going process of development of community values and interests as Georges Abi Saab wrote with reference to international crimes law like all social phenomena is a continuous unfolding a continuous process of elaboration He has also considered that the dynamics of the international legal process itself can be captured from the perspective of international organizations as vehicles for change in the international system From his early writings Georges Abi Saab approached the United Nations Charter as a blueprint both normative and institutional for a certain type of international society International institutions with all their imperfections continue for him to be the means of realization of the law of cooperation which lies at the heart of his concept of the international system The themes selected for this volume in honour of Professor Georges Abi Saab are intended to reflect his unique and pioneering contribution to the field of international law The contributors are drawn from what he has always considered to be his large family of former students in his forty years of teaching Georges Abi Saab has acted as mentor to generations of students from all over the world who have benefited from his vision insights originality and creative and stimulating use of language The contributors also include colleagues and friends who share a similar vision of the international legal system     Recueil Des Cours 1965 Academie De Droit International De La Ha,1968-12-01 The Academy is a prestigious international institution for the study and teaching of Public and Private International Law and related subjects The work of the Hague Academy receives the support and recognition of the UN Its purpose is to encourage a thorough and impartial examination of the problems arising from international relations in the field of law The courses deal with the theoretical and practical aspects of the subject including legislation and case law All courses at the Academy are in principle published in the language in which they were delivered in the Collected Courses of the Hague Academy of International Law     Glimpses of Unfamiliar Japan Lafcadio Hearn,1928     De la guerre civile en droit des gens Paul Sadoul,1905     Dynamiques des guerres civiles en Afrique Arsène Brice Bado,2015-04-15 Cet ouvrage offre un essai de typologie des nombreuses hypothèses concurrentes dans l'analyse des causes des guerres civiles en Afrique Il distingue 3 éléments dans la chaîne causale de leur émergence les facteurs structurels les éléments amplificateurs et les facteurs déclencheurs Si les causes peuvent être similaires pour certains conflits il restitue chacun sa complexité selon les acteurs en présence l'histoire sociopolitique particulière des sociétés et les conditions matérielles     The Organization of Secondary and Superior Instruction, with Especial Reference to the Colonies.
